PA NEWC OBSERVES

Flag day is being more universally obseved in New Castle today than for many years past. Old Glory is flying everywhere.

To Earl H. McClain, of 26 Round street, goes the honor of bringing in the first adult hellgrammite of the season. Mr. McClain found the fierce looking winged creature, which had been attacked by a cat bird, and which had the bird puzzled. The hellgrammite stays in the adult stage for only a brief period at this time of the year. It is a winged insect which attains a length of sometimes three inches, with mandibles or horns which stick out in front, giving it a rather terrifying appearance. After mating and laying its eggs, the adults die, and the young hatch out into the ground, crawling to some stream of water where they remain in the larva stage for three years, when they emerge again in the adult stage, grow a set of wings and fly around.

Report Frontal Attack Upon Maginot Line In Saar River Area

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

BERLIN, June 14.—German troops today launched a frontal attack against the Maginot Line along the Saar River.

The long-awaited offensive against the formidable eastern fortifications of France was announced in the regular daily communique of the German high command which disclosed the occupation of Paris and Le Havre and complete breakdown of French resistance between Montmedy and the sea.

The communique said:

"The second gigantic campaign in the west has been victoriously concluded.

"The strength of resistance of the French northern army has collapsed. The river Seine below Paris has

France Awaits Answer From President Roosevelt

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Sports Writer

TOURS, France, June 14.—Forty million French citizens, of whom ten million were fleeing from German troops, today listened with agonized suspense for word from President Roosevelt in reply to Premier Paul Reynaud's desperate, 11th hour appeal for aid.

This is the hour of France's Gethsemane.

At the same time that German boots rang on the boulevards of Paris and the fair capital of this nation was reduced to its ultimate humiliation, the French government was compelled to withdraw further south. It left Tours at dawn today.

Vast Tragedy

The outcome of this battle and perhaps of the war itself may depend upon the answer the American president can give to France's supplication.

Today at Tours the entire corps of correspondents is waiting for the president's answer, as upon its tenor depends what one may expect to happen to this country with its millions of refugees, many of whom have begun to run out of food.

Between Paris and the Mediterranean is now being enacted what historians may describe as the vastest tragedy of modern times.

For the correspondents here press wireless is the sole means of communication with the outside world.

We have just been told it would cease functioning within five minutes and that it may not get back to work until it has been re-established elsewhere—possibly after several days.

Roosevelt Signs Bill Carrying Funds For Defense

National Military Research Bureau Is Being Established, Says President

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Roosevelt today signed the $1,495,000,00 army appropriation bill, carrying vital funds for his national defense program, and simultaneously announced that he was setting up a national research bureau to keep the military abreast of scientific developments in warfare.

Largest items in the huge army measure were $105,000,000 for 2,556 more army planes, $189,000,000 for critical materials to make ready for the possible mobilization of an army of 1,000,000 men, $72,000,000 to speed up army construction work, $38,000,000 for anti-aircraft equipment, and $26,000,000 to modernize existing equipment.

The President previously had signed the navy's supply bill, calling for $1,492,000,000 in cash and contractual authority.

Still pending in Congress is the supplemental national defense bill which will make another $1,706,000,000 available for both the army and navy.

By GEORGE DURNO

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Official Washington — White House and Congress, Democrats and Republicans alike — today viewed with deepest sympathy the desperate and "last" appeal of French Premier Reynaud for immediate, whole - hearted American aid to the sorely-stricken allied armies.

But it appeared that the White House had summed up the answer: "Everything possible already is being done."

Oppose U. S. Declaring War

A representative cross-section of congressional opinion continued to show overwhelming opposition to an American declaration of war—for which Reynaud apparently pleaded last night over the radio when he asked: "Will they (Americans) still hesitate to declare themselves against Nazi Germany?"

AIRLINE'S STATUS TOLD GNCA GROUP

Spokesman For DuPont Group Guest Here Of Civic Leaders

Greater New Castle Association leaders yesterday received an up-to-the-minute report on efforts of All American Aviation, Inc., DuPont-backed group, to establish a new mail, express and passenger airline service for New Castle and other cities and towns between Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

At a luncheon the GNCA sponsored in The Castleton, Holger Hoiriis, representing All American, told a group of businessmen that plans for inaugurating the air service are ready and only await necessary governmental sanction.

The new airline would link New Castle's airport with the Pittsburgh and Cleveland ports and provide faster airmail and express and passenger delivery to cities of the east and mid-west. All American now operates connecting airlines in several sections.

The Greater New Castle Association is employing its influence in behalf of the new line. At the luncheon Norman E. Clark, GNCA president, presided and introduced Hoiriis to his audience.

Hoiriis is a pilot himself and flew one of All American's ships here. A delegation of the Greater New Castle organization met him at the Parkstown Corners airport.

Charged with murder and manslaughter before Alderman O. H. P. Green today, Arthur Dean, 34, pleaded not guilty to the murder of his sister-in-law, Helen Nasal. A formal hearing will be held later District Attorney John G. Lamoree announced.

Shortly before noon Dean signed a confession of the killing of the girl but insists he is not guilty of murder or manslaughter, according to the officials.

Helen Nasal, age 28, of Motor road, Shenango township, was brutally slashed to death at 11:45 p. m. Thursday, by her brother-in-law, Arthur Dean, age 34, of 1408 Jackson avenue, this city, according to District Attorney John G. Lamoree, who claims Dean has confessed to the crime.

Her body, covered with probably a score of knife wounds, was discovered at 12:05 a. m. today by State Motor Policemen McCullough, Klare, County Detective Welsh and Sheriff's Deputy Badger, along a lonely path, in a field, 150 yards from Motor road, in Shenango township.

U. S. Ambassador Sends Message To Washington German Army In Paris

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 14. — The German army is "inside the gates of Paris," the United States ambassador to France, William C. Bullitt, reported to the State Department early today.

Bullitt's laconic message, giving no details and leaving official Washington mystified as to the fate of the cultural center of Europe, was relayed to the Department by Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., American ambassador to the refugee Polish government at Tours.

Biddle telephoned the State Department at 1 a. m. E. S. T., and said that Bullitt had informed him from Paris, where he remained when most of the French government retired to Tours, that:

City Is Quiet

"The German army is inside the gates of Paris. The city is quiet."

That was all. Just 13 words to tell the world that the famous French city, which had fallen only once before in the world's history, again apparently was in the hands, or about to be in the hands, of a new captor.

Bullit sent his fateful notification to Biddle at 7 o'clock Paris time (2 p. m. E. D. T.) but it was 1 o'clock this morning, Washington time (6

President Briefly Answers Statement Of Adolf Hitler

Reply To Interview Of Hitler Regarding Possible Invasion Of U. S.

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 14.—With a four-word sentence, President Roosevelt today took issue with the statement of Chancellor Adolf Hitler in which the fuehrer described as "grotesque" any fears that the United States might be invaded.

Asked to comment upon this statement of Hitler's, attributed to the German chancellor in an interview with Karl Von Wiegand of the Hearst newspapers, Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"It brings up recollections."

At the same time the President said the United States is doing everything it possibly can to aid the sorely-stricken Allies.

As yet, he said, the desperate appeal for "final" aid from French Premier Reynaud had not reached him and he knew only what he read in the papers concerning it.

When asked to comment on the Hitler interview, in which the German chancellor gave assurances that he had no interest in the western hemisphere, Mr. Roosevelt permitted quotation of his brief sentence concerning "recollections".

That, he said, was quite sufficient comment—although it could be enlarged upon by making specific nations and states and the dates upon which they were invaded.

WITH THE GERMAN ARMIES EN ROUTE TO PARIS, June 14.—(Relayed by Courier) — Germany's armed legions are in Paris today.

The French capital has been abandoned by its troops.

With these developments, German authorities declared, "France's hour has struck."

Prior to the German occupation of the French capital, Germans hoped the favorite tourist resort and playground of the old world would spare itself the horrors that mangled Warsaw and Rotterdam.

German sources declared that Chancellor Hitler did his utmost "within military reason" to keep Paris intact.

They said he staked his hope of preserving the city on belief that Paris defense authorities would recognize the "futility of turning the home of 4,000,000 people into a heap of ruins and ashes for the sake of prestige or propagandistic effect abroad."

French Outlook Hopeless

Moving forward with the converging German armies over French roads leading to the capital, German authorities said that with the fall of Paris the French military outlook is becoming "hopeless".

They declared that in addition to Paris, the basic industrial, transportation and administrative areas of all France now pass under control of Hitler.

It appeared that most of the vital French industries in the captured Paris region are in fairly good con-

British Doubt French Line Broken

French Government Is Moved To Bordeaux Says Report

CLAIM GERMANS OCCUPY LE HAVRE

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 14.—British military circles cast serious doubts today on the German claim that the entire French front line from the sea to Montmedy has broken down.

These circles declared they had no confirmation of this and said that, according to the latest information available in London, the German claim is believed to be untrue.

British military quarters agreed that if Germany pours troops into Paris, the French capital no longer would be an open town and the French would be entitled to attack it.

New York, June 14.—The Columbia Broadcasting System today announced receipt of a message from Eris Sevaried, its correspondent at Tours, stating that the French government was leaving that city and re-establishing itself at Bordeaux.

Degree Work Ends

The conferring of the degree work was concluded with the great patriotic degree last evening, and today is being spent in pleasurable pursuits by the class members and their friends. This morning the class was organized and afterwards lunch was enjoyed. This afternoon there is to be a Scottish Rite Symposium, led by Ross D. Rosenberger and others, on "What Scottish Rite Masonry Means to the Individual".

There will also be a reception for Dr. Stine during the afternoon.

In the meantime, the ladies were guests at a luncheon at the Cathedral at noon, which was to be followed by a reception, tea, and cards in the afternoon in the lounge and parlors of The Castleton, returning to the Cathedral in time for the dinner meeting.

In addition to the address of Dr. Stine, there is to be motion pictures, cards and dancing, following the address.

Everything for the comfort of the guests has been provided for today, and a first aid station will be maintained through the courtesy of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, which will be in charge of Mrs. George L. Robertson.

Dr. Stine, the speaker of the evening, is a graduate of Gettysburg college, where he received the successive degrees of A. B., B. S., A. M. and M. S., completing his graduate and post-graduate work in 1905. He later studied at Johns-Hopkins university, becoming a fellow in 1906, and receiving the Ph. D. degree a year later

Shortly after this time he entered the employ of the Dupont company, joining the staff of the Eastern Laboratory at Gibbstown, N. J., where he was in charge of organic research from 1909 to 1916. As a result of work done under Dr. Stine's direction, the first commercial production of T. N. T. in this country was initiated. In 1917, he went to Wilmington as head of the organic division of the chemical department, becoming assistant director in 1919, and director in 1924. He continued in this position until June 1, 1930, when he was elected a vice-president and director of the company and appointed a member of its executive committee.

One of the most valuable contributions to the technical development of the Dupont company during this period was the organization of fundamental research. Out of this have come neoprene chloroprene, rubber and the protein-like polyamide compounds, known as nylon.

U. S. AMBASSADOR SENDS MESSAGE OF GERMANS IN PARIS

a. m. Paris time) before Biddle got the word through to the State Department.

The times involved indicate that the Germans were in Paris even before French Premier Paul Reynaud broadcast his "last appeal" to President Roosevelt, imploring the United States to "declare itself against Germany" and to dispatch a cloud of warplanes to France's aid immediately.

News Is Spread

Administration officials who were quickly given the news by telephone interpreted the second sentence of Bullitt's report—"The city is quiet"—to mean that the Nazi invaders were meeting with no opposition within the city proper. The French, it was reported yesterday, decided to strip the city of all military character to preclude its destruction by the German "blitzkreig."

Officials in Washington were somewhat concerned over the welfare of Bullitt, who is virtually a lone diplomat in Paris. Receipts of his message through Biddle told them that direct communication of any type from the beleaguered city now was impossible.

At 4 a. m., the watch officer on duty at the state department said that "everything is quiet" and that there had been no messages from Europe since Biddle telephoned.

Bullitt narrowly escaped with his life a few days ago when the Nazis launched their first major air raid on Paris. At that time a heavy bomb crashed through the ceiling of the building where he was conferring with the French air minister, striking within a few feet of the pair. Only the fact that the missile failed to detonate—"God must have been with me," the ambassador told President Roosevelt — was responsible for the fact that Bullitt was not killed.

official or otherwise, to pretend that the immediate outlook of the allies is not extremely dark, or that still more shocks are not to be expected.

But at the same time there was reiterated determination to face the future with courage and to continue to extend every possible assistance to France.

Some British circles declared some such shock was necessary for Britain to rouse itself to a supreme war effort and the London Evening Standard keynoted this sentiment in an editorial which said:

"Democracy cannot win its battles by watching, we must become a national in arms."

A new British promise of "utmost aid" was sent to France today along with a pledge of the "indissoluble union of our two people and our two empires."

London newspapers splashed French Premier Paul Reynaud's final appeal to the United States for aid across their front pages while latest dispatches from the front indicated the increasing gravity of the military situation.

of the massage Reynaud said over the radio he had dispatched. At a late hour last night it had not been placed in the President's hands.

Strongest immediate reaction in favor of the French plea for still more succor came from Sen. Claude Pepper (D) Fla., ardent New Dealer who has repeatedly but unsuccessfully tried to persuade the Senate to vote to send the Allies army and navy planes in large numbers at once.

"It seems to me," said Pepper, "that if the people had the opportunity to pass on it today they would grant the aid that Premier Reynaud asks. It is unthinkable to me that we stand here and see this thing go on and do nothing. I think we should immediately redouble our efforts to send more planes, more ships, more arms, more ammunition."

Difficult To Respond

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, one of the leading Republican presidential candidates, observed: "The appeal is a moving one, but it is one that would be difficult to respond to."

Sen. Henrik Shipstead (F-L) Minn., said: "I don't see how we could do anything in time to do any good, even if we wanted to, and decided to go to war. We have no army and have no planes."

Chairman Sol Bloom, of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said: "I sympathize fully with France. But we cannot do the impossible, of course. We cannot go beyond what the law says. Men we cannot and will not send."

Others voiced similar sentiments—those who would comment at all. Many members of Congress refused to comment, saying that the matter was one for the White House and State Department.

President Roosevelt and his National Defense Council worked feverishly to speed up private production and delivery of government supplies to the Allies. So far, however, only 224 army and navy planes have found their way into Franco-British hands and the military command is reluctant to part with many more.

It was pointed out that last Monday, when the president at Charlottesville (Va.) pledged the American "material resources" so urgently needed by the Allies, he did it with one reservation—that the United States itself must prepare at once "for any emergency and every defense Mr. Roosevelt warned then that "once more the future of the nation and of the American people is at stake."

GERMAN TROOPS OCCUPY PARIS NAZIS REPORT

dition. Soon, it was stated, they will be put to work against the section of France still controlled by the Reynaud government.

German authorities said the fate of Paris was sealed several days ago when, according to a German officer, the advancing Nazi divisions saw from the region northwest of Paris in the hot June sunshine the majestic Eiffel tower pointing the tri-color high into the sky.

Observers had noticed that the Eiffel tower elevator was no longer moving up and down and it was assumed the French were not using it as an observation post.

The historic landmark therefore was saved from shrieking shells and bombs which might have toppled the structure.

This is the first time since 1870 that enemy troops are entering the capital of France.

The Germans after crossing the Seine and Marne on both sides of the city, slowly closed a ring around it, but left a hole open on the south side to give French troops a last chance to get out and retire towards Orleans and Chartres.

seize Galisia pass was repulsed. Results to impede movements of our fleet.

"Two enemy submarines were hit, and one was seriously damaged.

Bombard Tunis Area

"The Italian air force continuing its action carried out an effective bombardment of the Tunis area.

Various offensive actions also were carried out on the air base at Hyeres, where aircraft were machine-gunned from a low altitude, against a base in Fayence-En-Province and against military installations at Toulon. One aircraft failed to return to its base.

"Reconnaissance activity over enemy bases and territory were carried out with intensity.

"In Italian North Africa enemy attacks supported by tanks against our posts along the Egyptian frontier were repulsed. Prompt intervention of our aircraft destroyed some tanks and damaged others.

"In Italian East Africa enemy troops supported by artillery fire and aerial bombardment attacked the Moyale zone of East Africa at dawn June 11. The attack was completely repulsed with slight losses.

"Among the prisoners left in our hands were a British officer and non-commissioned officer.

"Our aircraft bombarded Port Sudan, the Aden airport and an emergency landing field at Moyale. Two aircraft failed to return.

"Enemy air raids in Eritrea resulted in slight material damage. One enemy aircraft was brought down."

FRENCH TROOPS EVACUATE PARIS TO PREVENT RUIN

covering Paris retired from various parts of the city, conforming with orders received.

"The French command, in renouncing direct defense of the capital and in maintaining it was an open city, desired to spare it the devastation which defense would have brought, estimating that no valuable strategic result would justify the sacrifice of Paris.

"On the vast Champaigne front the enemy armies are progressing, fighting toward the south.

"Their most advanced elements appear to be pointed toward Romilly in one sector and St. Dizier in another.

"Our fighting and army organization continue to be in extremely good order."

To Continue Fighting

It was learned on the most reliable authority that the allies plan to continue fighting against Germany and that Britain is sending France "massive aid" immediately.

In his final supreme appeal to President Roosevelt, Reynaud called for "fresh squadrons of planes from overseas" to save France.

"This is the last time he (President Roosevelt) can help," Reynaud said.

"Each time I asked the President of the United States to increase all forms of aid permitted by American law, he did so generously and was approved by his people.

"But today we are beyond that point....the hour has come for all free men to pay their debt....will the American people still hesitate to declare themselves against Nazi Grmany?

"Our tragic battle will be intelligent only if we know there is hope—even if it is ever so distant—of victory.

"German superiority in the air can be broken only if fresh squadrons arrive from overseas.

"We wanted to be a free government. That is why we left Paris.

"We did not want Hitler to suppress our legal government and constitute a puppet government such as exists nearly everywhere.

Makes Last Appeal

"The spirit of France cannot be broken by invasion. All free men must know that now the time has come to prevent Hitler from succeeding in his plan.

"All that we are suffering in France must be made known to the entire world. The hour has come when all free men on earth must know.

"The hour has come for them to repay their debt.

France has a right to tell the great democracies: "We are entitled to call upon you."....

"We know what admiration the world has for France, but now France has the right to turn around and speak to other democracies. She has the right to say to them, "It's your turn now."

"I have asked Mr. Roosevelt repeatedly to extend American help to the allies as far as it is possible within the laws of the United States.

"Tonight I addressed to him a last appeal. There is no longer time for half-hearted measures. Now the struggle is for France's very life. The battle is increasing in hardship every day.

"Nevertheless we have increasing hope in a common victory for democracy. We may hope that the day is near when the forces of evil will be beaten."

DR. AND MRS. WILSON HOSTS TO NURSES CLASS

Following rehearsal Thursday night at the First Christian church in preparation for their graduating exercises to take place this evening, the graduating nurses class of 1940 of Jameson Memorial hospital were honored at a supper party in The Castleton, with Dr. and Mrs. Paul H. Wilson, hosts in charge.

Other guests included faculty members, supervisors and those on the operating staff of Jameson Memorial hospital.

The serving was in progress at 9 o'clock, the tables being attractively arranged for this feature. Places marked for twenty-five. Afterwards the hours were spent pleasantly with music as the main pastime.

This delightfully informal occasion winds up a series of social functions for the graduates of June 1940 class, they having been feted at a series of lovely parties during the past few weeks. Tonight, they will receive their diplomas for having completed a course in nursing, their chosen profession.

LADIES OF LIONS WILL HAVE PICNIC

The Ladies of the Lions will entertain their husbands at a picnic dinner at New Wilmington park on Tuesday, June 18, at 6:30.

A surprise program will be presented by the members of the Lions.

Junior Bible Class

Junior Bible Class members of the People's Mission of Sampson street, enjoyed a spaghetti supper event on a recent evening, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huff of English avenue.

Places were marked for 38 guests at nicely arranged tables, and a social period with informal pastimes, followed. A corn roast will be the next outing, the date to be set.

Plans were made to have a sunrise breakfast on June 23, when members of the Young Tigers auxiliary met in their clubroom Wednesday evening. Hostesses were Rose Marie Sica, Clara DeSemione and Mary Marcella.

The committee in charge of the breakfast includes Caroline Cubellis, Rose Amadio and Freda Testa. Five hundred provided the pastime, prizes going to Frances Pagley and Lucille Palus. Mary Marcella received the door prize. Special guests were Madeline DeSemione and Rose Costa.

The group will meet once a month, starting with their next meeting, on July 10. Hostesses will be Frances Pagley, Victoria Pagley and Josephine Russo.

D. O. F. Club Meets

Members of the D. O. F. club were pleasantly entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Vago, 4 Laurel avenue.

Final plans were made for the trip to Cleveland, which will be held on Saturday, June 22.

The birthday anniversary of Rosemary Roth was honored and she received a lovely gift in behalf of the club. Games and contests were held, prizes going to Mrs. Rosemary Roth, and Mrs. Margaret Pearl. Mrs. Judy Covert captured the club token.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Faye Veri, the special guest.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Margaret Pearl, 419 Galbreath avenue, on June 27.

Club Entertained

The regular meeting of the Merry Birthday Maidens club was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Gene Burns, of North Ray street.

Games and contests featured prizes going to Mrs. Frank Leaghty and Mrs. Roy Ward. At a later hour, they enjoyed a delicious lunch served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Harold Boughter and Mrs. Charles Boughter. At a suitable time, club members presented Mrs. Burns with a lovely array of gifts in honor of the hostess' birthday anniversary.

On July 11, Mrs. William Boughter will be hostess to club members at her home on Court street.

Mr. And Mrs. T. Armstrong Golden Wedding Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Armstrong of 718 Croton avenue, who have been residents of this city for almost fifty years, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary tomorrow, when they observe open house from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 8 p. m. until midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong were born in Mercer county, and spent their youth in the vicinity of Grove City. Mrs. Armstrong, prior to her marriage was Jennie D. Cook. They were married in Mercer, Pa., June 15, 1890, and resided in Mercer county until 1894, when they came to this city where they have since continuously resided.

Mr. Armstrong was superintendent of the New Castle Traction Company for a period of seven years around the turn of the century.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Walter J. Bishop, of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. Vane D. Johns, of East Brook, who with their families will be present to assist in the celebration.

In addition to the observance tomorrow, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong have issued an invitation to their friends to worship with them at the Croton Avenue Methodist church, of which they have been members since coming here, Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock.

JOHN F. SMITH ENJOYS BIRTHDAY RECEPTION

In keeping with a long established custom, Mrs. Jennie Connor held an informal reception Thursday afternoon and evening, honoring her father, John F. Smith, one of New Castle's eldest and highly respected citizens, the event being a medium of commemorating his 86th birthday anniversary.

Early in the day, neighbors, friends and relatives, numbering nearly 75, started to call at their residence, to extend congratulations to Mr. Smith. They were served refreshments, and pastel appointments were used in all appointments. The rooms were decorated with bouquet of flowers, many being gifts. In the late afternoon, a broadcast of Mr. Smith's favorite songs were heard on a special program.

Mr. Smith, who recalls vividly East Washington street when it was nothing more than a pathway of cobblestones, and many other historical facts, was born in New Wilmington. The Smith homestead once stood where the Overlook Sanitorium now stands on what was called "Furnace Hill." He is a gardner of authority, having planned some of New Castle's most beautiful home gardens, which still remain.

In addition to receiving many handsome gifts, a large collection of cards and messages were additional joys. A letter from his brother, Carlton W. Smith, registar and recorder of Erie, and other notes from long-time neighbors and friends, made the day most complete.

STEPHENSON CIRCLE CONCLUDES SEASON

Stephenson Circle members of the First Methodist church, were pleasingly entertained in the home of Mrs. B. H. Kannenberg on Winter avenue, Thursday evening, when they met, bringing to a close their season's activities.

After the religious period, led by Miss Mollie E. Davis, Mrs. John Templeton conducted the King Heralds' program. Reports were heard, including that of a recent convention, to which Mrs. John Butler, Mrs. Robert Meermans and Miss Alma Wolverton, went as representatives. The latter gave a detailed account of the activities which took place.

In the absence of their regular secretary, former secretary, Mrs. DeLace Cole of Greenville and who resided here until most recently, presided in this capacity.

Mrs. Frank Marquis, group leader, with Mrs. T. J. Hamilton, Mrs. Frank Streib and Mrs. B. H. Kannenberg served refreshments at the close.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB CONCLUDES SEASON

In bringing the season to a close, the Progressive Bridge club membership motored to a suburban tea room Wednesday evening for a dinner party, at 6:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Jane Hana, of Wilson, Pa., as a special guest.

Attention was given to bridge afterwards, with Mrs. Frank Schneider and Mrs. Harry Hildebrand winning the honor prizes. The galloper fell to Mrs. Patty Kradel.

This marks the last gathering until the second week of September, when Mrs. Betty Kradel of Boyles avenue, will entertain at her home.

KEEPING SECRET WEAPONS SECRET

IF AMERICAN inventors have in mind anything that might serve as a "secret weapon" steps have been taken by the government to keep it secret. Secret weapons are not new. They had them in the World War and a similar system of keeping them under cover and strictly for American use was worked out through the U. S. Patent Office.

In connection with the present defense measures the U. S. Commissioner of Patents, Conway P. Coe and Edward J. Noble, Undersecretary of the Department of Commerce, have prepared plans for an Inventors' Council. This body will include scientists, industrial research experts, government and military and naval officials.

Existing law gives authority, such as we exercised in 1917 and 1918, to keep inventions secret when national safety demands it, although, of course, inventors are fully protected. In the World War 2100 inventions were covered up in this way.

Many thousands more are expected to be presented from now on. One function of the Inventors' Council will be to discover inventions of possible value to national defense, although their creator may have no such idea in mind in formulating them.

The American Inventors' Council is not counted upon to turn up something terrific. But it will serve a valuable purpose if it makes the most of every device that might help the country to defend itself.

INCONSIDERATE PARKING

There are some things about which it appears nothing much can be done. As, for instance, the habit of some motorists who park in the middle of a space ample for two cars.

A little thoughtfulness would result in taking only enough space to allow clearance, and thus leave room for another car.

Similar disregard for others is shown by those motorists who park so close to the car in front or rear as to make it impossible for the other driver to get his car out from the curb when he is ready to leave the parking place.

Just why the same courtesies that are common to other associations are so frequently ignored by many motorists has never been satisfactorily explained.

DECORATIVE RESTRAINT

News stories dealing with the preparations going forward in Philadelphia for the National Republican Convention bring the news that this year the Republicans do not intend to bear down hard on the bunting thing. Usually a national convention indulges in a decorative delirum.

This time the Republicans in charge of the meeting place believe that restraint on this score will be in keeping with the seriousness of the hour. The chief feature of the hall ornamentation will be a shield for each of the states and the territories.

More than ever this year the Republican convention will be ordered for the convenience of those transmitting its deliberations to the public. A real convention novelty, a television contraption, will appear to supplement the microphones, the movie machines, the long-range photographers and the close-up camera cohorts. Incidentally, $150,000 of the $200,000 put up by Philadelphia will be expended on the arrangements in the Municipal Convention Hall before a delegate takes his seat therein.

MR. EDISON'S SUCCESSOR

With the resignation of Secretary of the Navy Edison, to become effective this month, President Roosevelt will be called upon to fill a place in his cabinet which has been given more than ordinary importance by reason of the international crisis and the resultant preparedness program.

The needs of the immediate future are certain to be more exacting than those of the past, and the responsibilities of the new secretary of the navy will be correspondingly greater as the rearmament program enters its more vital stages. The people of the United States will, accordingly, await with deep interest the President's selection of a successor to Secretary Edison and will subject it to critical scrutiny. At such a stage in the nation's affairs, the President can be influenced by only one consideration—the fitness of the man for the job.

That he be a New Dealer is not essential. Whether he comes from the North, East, South or West does not greatly matter. The important thing is that he shall be an executive of force, ability and outstanding talents for administration.

PLAN FOR ARTIFICIAL WIND

Sailors old and new, as well as landlubbers, may well marvel at the latest plan of the government's air force expansion program to produce an artificial wind to blow 400 miles an hour.

It was announced recently by United States Army engineers that in the fall work will be started at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, on a $2,000,000 wind tunnel. Col. Oliver B. Echols, assistant chief of the Army Materials Division, says this tube, through which will surge wind at 400 miles an hour, is designed to make United States fighting planes the best in the world. The wind will come from two fans, 40 feet in diameter, with 16 blades, whirled by 40,000 horse power electric motors in a tunnel 780 feet long.

Inside this tunnel will be placed model planes and materials. Outside, viewing through glass windows, will be technicians to note what happens when wind is blowing at more than six miles a minute.

This 400-mile-an-hour wind, if attained, will nearly double the highest recorded natural wind. On April 12, 1934, atop Mount Washington, there was recorded a wind of 231 miles an hour, the greatest of which there is a known record. This speed held for only a few seconds, but one of 186 miles, as clocked by the anemometer, held for five minutes.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SCHOOL LUNCH MANNERS

The United States over, bedlam reigns in the average school cafeteria. While one rarely sees much pushing and rowdyism in the school cafeteria, the noise, clatter of dishes and shouting of children, is almost deafening. The atmosphere is hardly conducive to good physical and mental health. Whatever training in good table manners the youngsters may have had at home has "gone with the wind" in the school cafeteria; manners are atrocious. The same might be said of the dining hall of many colleges and fraternity.

And yet we like to think of the school and college engaged continuously at cultivating poise, self-control and refinement. We like to think of them as lifters toward the niceties of social grace rather than as a leveler toward barbarity.

The cafeteria has been thrust upon the school as a necessity. While most school principals have done well at providing good foods at low low cost for the children, very few principals have thought of the cafeteria in terms of real education. That they have not, is to be wondered at in these days when nearly all school administrators and supervisors are always telling us that school is life.. Apparently they overlook the cafeteria. Yes, it's life all right, there too, but it's life of the cave man.

Class In Manners?

The problem is not easy of solution, of course, especially in the large crowded cafeterias of your huge high schools. Perhaps, the first step is to provide noiseless equipment, which I understand, is possible without excessive cost.

The next is to treat the lunch period as a class period, a laboratory period on the niceties of social grace and everyday good manners, when teachers will serve as hostesses, or hosts to groups of students about a table, taking the matter just as seriously as if it were a class in English, science of mathematics.

Teachers should not have more hours. Their teaching load is too heavy now, as a rule but there should be more teachers—about the best expenditure of public funds

In an occasional elementary school parents of the PTA have served as hostesses. In addition to saving money, this plan should not only further refinement in the cafeteria atmosphere, but also bring the school and home closed together. I might add that I have visited a few public schools and colleges where the cafeteria or dining hall is a place of culture and refinement. What have been your observations?

Solving Parent Problem

Q. My child will be ready for the first grade next year. How much should I teach him to read before the first day of school?

A. Don't bother him about learning to read. Leave that to the school. Read aloud to him every day. If however, he asks you to name letters or words that interest him, give him the answer. But don't turn about and ask him what letter or word this or that is.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NATIONAL SECURITY.

Ours is a vast country, seldom swept from coast to coast by waves of emotion. One has rolled across the nation, however, reaching every state, every nook and corner. Not since the outset of the Roosevelt administration has there been a similar unifying of national thought.

I refer to the public reaction to the German successes in the low countries, creating, almost over night, a tremendous, almost unanimous, demand for far-reaching expansion of national defense.

For the first time since the World War, there is nation-wide concern over the ability of the United States to resist invasion.

All of the available evidence indicates that this belief will be confirmed in events to come, and that before many weeks have passed the United States will be engaged in a preparedness effort unprecedented in the nation's peace-time history.

What has really happened is that after standing aloof from Europe's tragedies for many months, our country has suddenly been hurled into the storm of world change. The American people see now that their isolation is largely imaginative. They find, on surveying the world scene, that forces are gathering which might easily menace the security of the western hemisphere.

Of course, these realizations have not all been born in the few days since German troops crossed the Belgian-Dutch frontiers. There were beginnings, before that. But for the masses of Americans, the awakening did not come until this invasion began, and until the military factors jeopardizing the Allies became apparent.

Now that the public is aroused, vigorous action will surely follow. Whether we like it or not, we are being forced to quicken the pace of our national life, and turn it into military channels. Unemployment has taken second place as a problem before the people and their government. National security is now the top issue of the day.

A peacemaker always runs the risk of getting into the trouble he is trying to stop.

It's all right to give lots of lip service if it is backed up with something that is really needed.

PRECAUTION

Two motorists collided at an intersection and, being unable to agree on who was to blame, decided to await arrival of a policeman.

One pulled a flask from his pocket.

"Might as well have a drink to settle the nerves," he said, offering it to the other, who took a hearty pull. He had several more and finally asked why the owner of the flask wasn't taking any.

"I'm waiting until after the policeman has come and gone," he said.

Even a politician cannot fool all of the people all of the time. But, if he is a determined person, he can keep trying.

No honker ever succeeds in horning his way out of traffic.

The homegrown strawberry is a great treat when it is grown in your own garden. Of course all the other kinds are also fine.

A man was talking to a chap working in a local wholesale house. "You want more money?" asked the boss. "I worked three years for $11 a month right in this establishment, and now I'm the owner."

"Well, you see what happened to your boss," said the youth: "No man who treats his help that way can hang on to his business."

DEFINED

A woman entered a bank to make a deposit. She had some bills and checks to deposit, so she procured a deposit slip which required the listing of bills, specie, and checks. She listed her bills and checks in their respective places, but was in doubt what to list under specie.

After a few moments' thought she wrote after the word specie "Female," and handed in her deposit.

It takes time, of course, for people to become accustomed to an upside down world, but they are doing as well as could be expected.

A Philadelphia newspaper publisher has to pay the government $9,500,000 for failing to pay all of his income tax. He must have a paying newspaper.

REAL SPIRIT

The clergyman had a taste for cherry brandy, and one of his parishioners offered a case.

"I'll send it on condition that you publicly acknowledge the present from the pulpit," said the prospective donor.

The case duly arrived. The following Sunday the donor was on hand to hear the acknowledgment from the pulpit.

During the announcement period the clergyman made the acknowledgement as follows:

"I would like to thank one of my parishioners for sending me a case of cherries. And I especially want to thank him for the spirit in which it was sent."

In some cities efforts are being made to find out the people who are in favor of Hitler and his crowd Not a bad idea.

On account of the war, some of the things that had to be imported into this country are now being produced here. One of the things is Paprika, a Turkish pepper. It seems we have to have it here.

Good Taste

Last night an important executive told me why he will not employ married women. "Among women, the emotional pull of married life generally upsets office efficiency," he said. "Married women are likely to arrive at their desks already wearied by the day's domestic preliminaries. Instead of making their lunch hours a recess for relaxation they generally spend it shopping. And there are more clock-watchers among wives than among spinisters in office. All of these habits devitalize them for their jobs."

Fortunately not all employers have this prejudice. Married girls who shut the home door when they turn their faces officeward and who keep it shut until all office duties have been completed will not be nosed out by unmarried women without home responsibilities. The wife engaged all day in office work should not be required to go home to housework, if her husband, too, is working. Physically, the average office-working wife is less able to go home to housework than the average office-working husband. If out of their joint salaries, they cannot afford at least a part-time maid, they are not economically adjusted to each other.

Readers' Questions Answered

Question: When entering a dining room, should the hostess precede her guests?—Hilda.

Answer: She should follow her guests, except when it is necessary for her to lead the way, in which case she should excuse herself for going first.

Question: When I invite guests to parties, etc., should I serve refreshments before or after entertainments?—Hostess.

Answer: If you invite them for meals — luncheon, dinner supper—refreshments should be served upon their arrival. If they arrive at other than meal times, serve your refreshments after your entertainment.

Tomorrow—That Tired Complex

NO WANDER HE FAINTED

A deacon of a famous church was going to New York to purchase a new sign, which was to hang in front of the church to advertise a new movement. He forgot his motto and telegraphed his wife to send motto and dimensions. An hour later a message came over the wire and the clerk who had just returned from lunch knew nothing of his previous message fainted. Wire read: "Unto us this day is born a son, 6 feet long and 3 feet wide."

ONE WAY

"How the dickens can I let my girl's boy friend know when it is time to leave at night?" asked the parent who had been bothered by the persistent suitor.

"One way that works, is to casually pass through the room with a couple of packages of breakfast food under your arm."

A commencement orator in a big college told the graduates, "The graduates of today have in their grasp the opportunity to effect transformation of the whole world." Bet those graduates felt good when they heard that.

Ex-President Hoover knows more about world conditions than any other living man, but he is not a politician. He is just a real human American citizen.

The Man From Missouri tells one about a colored preacher in Missouri who said in his sermon, "When Gabriel comes, be ready to jump when he toots his horn."

"My goodness," said a fat lady; "is he comin' in a auto?"

"Man on farm, peaceful, happy, not satisfied, wanted to get ahead. Lived near country railway station, learned telegraphy in spare time, became station agent, division manager, then general manager. Big shot now, plenty of trouble. Trusts, taxes, stockholders, competition. Worn down with problems. Health gave way, no appetite. Told to go to the country. Retired, bought back old farm home, lived there. Looked across the road, saw railway station, thought, 'Here I am back again just where I started, and I've had all this trouble for nothing'."

It is still a phony war. A general got close enough to the front line to be captured.

What's What At A Glance

Diplomatic Washington To Remain
Too Much Business To Leave Capital
Stettinus Appointment Augurs Well

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Diplomatic Washington is staying diplomatic this summer in unprecedented fashion. Ordinarily at the present season the capital should be completely deserted by the heads of embassies and legations—these important personages all the way from ports of northern Maine to Atlantic City, vacationing.

This time it's different. In the first place, too, much large-scale international business is on the griddle to be left to chage d'affaires, counsellors and secretaries. The boss himself must be available on short notice, not only any day, but frequently in the middle of any night.

Another consideration is that a number of ministers of recently obliterated, small European countries, probably lack the financial wherewithal for much gallivanting. It is unlikely that Poland, for instance, is maintaining the salary of its representative here from such small funds as it may be able to scare up at its Parisian headquarters-in-exile.

Few of these diplomats are rich men in their own right, and undoubtedly they find themselves pinched, separated from their home stipends and allowances.

In short, although diplomacy is unusually well represented in Washington for the present time of year, it is rather a glum aggregation.

Lord Lothian, the British embassador, is the conspicuous exception. His lordship temperamentally is of a happy disposition. He can and does denounce Hitlerism as vigorously as could be required, but his feelings on the subject never seem to threaten him with apoplexy.

Latin American Unrest

Washington administration informants persist with the story that the Latin Americas are fearful of a tide of totalitarianism immediately following marked successes by Hitler, probably plus Mussolini, in the old world.

The fact is that the Latin governments do suspect that such a development in Europe would be a signal for several local uprisings in their own mist.

They are not a bit afraid, however, but that they will be able to deal successfully with any outbreak which may occur.

They have known ever since the last World war that they had Trojan Horse elements to be reckoned with. Indeed, they experienced, here and there, several attempted outbreaks which they put down peremptorily. These commotions did not even alarm the established governments. An essential point is that there is no possibility that present day Latin authority will be taken in the least by surprise by the fifth columnists as seems to have been the case in Scandinavia, Holland Belgium. The Latins now what their situation is like and deem themselves fully able to take care of it. In the course of years conditions may change, but not on short notice—barring the chance of a little, not much trouble.

Latin America has in this country the reputation of being temperamentally pretty dictatorial already. This isn't a bad guess, but it's to be born in mind that the Latin American concept of a dictatorship is altogether different from Hitler's, Mussolini's or Stalin's.

Anyone who assumes that the New World is disposed to take orders from the Old World totalitarians makes a great mistake.

Stettinius' Future

Edward R. Stettinius' appointment as a leading member of the government's new defense commission can have no bearing upon talk of the retiring chairman of United States Steel (retired to enable him to devote all his time to the defense problem) as a presidential possibility

Several months ago, however, Stettinius was quite prominently mentioned presidentially.

In another four years, with a record behind him in connection with the defense program, he is quite likely to have a powerful appeal.

His age will be all right at that time. His background as one of fewer than half a dozen of the country's leading industrialists will mark him out economically. It may be accepted as a foregone conclusion that his defense activities will be above criticism. Some folk say that a legal training is an essential part of any aspirant's qualifications for the presidency. Well, Stettinius is one of the country's foremost lawyers, and broke into the steel corporation's higher ranks via that route.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

by The Baltimore Sun (Copyright, 1940)

Just Short Of War

Washington, June 14.

REACTION to the President's Charlottesville speech was mixed, but commendation far exceeded criticism Unquestionably, he reflected the resentment of the people generally at Mussolini's cowardly blow from behind, craftily timed to strike the Allies when it seemed safest for him and most damaging to them.

ALSO, to some extent, it cleared the American atmosphere. The hypocritical pretense of neutrality which officially we had sustained has now officially been abandoned by the head of the nation. He proclaims—and he is right—that our sympathies are fully with the Allies and that their cause is our cause. To that end all our material resources are to be made available to them.

THIS fully meets the demands of those who have insisted that we should aid the Allies in every way possible "short of war." It is, in fact, as close to a declaration of war as the President can go himself—perhaps a little further than most Presidents would have gone. If what he said did not meet with overwhelming public approval, he would be subjected to violent attack. But that attitude is generally approved and such criticisms as there have been take the form of suggesting that the speech should have been made to Congress and that, without consulting Congress, which the Constitution clothes with authority greater than his own, he has taken us a step closer to actual war.

ALL that is true enough, but those who responded favorably ask the question, "What else could a President say?" There seems no answer to that. He could not ignore the Italian entrance into the war, and he could not deal with it other than he did—that is, he could not deal with it otherwise and avoid dishonesty. Those who have been clamoring for candor in our foreign policy ought to be pleased—and most of them are.

IT does seem, however, that the stand taken by Mr. Roosevelt clashes with his desire to have Congress adjourn on June 22 instead of recess. The logical move to support his words is to ask Congress now to repeal the Neutrality Act and the Johnson Act and every other act that interferes with making all our material resources available to the Allies. The need now is for prompt Congressional action that will make it possible to do openly what under Presidential order we are doing by subterfuge. Under the circumstances, it would seem that the Administration effort to force Congress to quit might be abandoned.

AND there is another reason. Despite the efforts of inspired New Deal columnists to make it seem that everything in the Defense Commission is lovely and the President and Mr. Knudsen are sweethearts, there is trouble ahead of a serious nature. The bottom fact is that the labor legislation which the New Deal has put on the statute books interferes with the speed of production and greatly increases the cost. In addition, there are the union-labor regulations which bind the apprentice schools and which make it impossible for the supply of skilled labor to equal the demand.

SOON or late, if the job of preparedness is to be done even reasonably well, Congress has got to modify some of this New Deal legislation and the unions have got to relax their rules. But, unless the President leads in the effort to bring these things about, they are not likely to be done at all. Up to now

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Very Rev. Robert I. Gannon president of Fordham University, finds military re-armament alone insufficient:

"Military armament without moral armament is always suicide."

PHILADELPHIA—Den Dr. William E. Lingelbach of the University of Pennsylvania discounts dire prophesies for the future:

"Ideals and spiritual values, notwithstanding the seeming triumph of materialistic forces at different periods of his story have always prevailed in the long run."

NEW YORK—Regional NLRB director Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick urges a crack-down on "fifth columnists":

"Many people have confused liberalism and tolerance with a virtual acceptance of principles which are directly contrary to democracy."

CHICAGO—Sen. Claude Pepper offers his formula for peace in America:

"June-National Dairy Month" Ice Cream, Milk, Reach New High

With warm summer days ahead, and June set aside as "National Dairy Month" in which a campaign is now under way to increase the uses of milk and dairy products, ice cream is rapidly reaching a new high, as the "all-American" nutritious delicacy.

Little did one think that when the legendary Marco Polo introduced the frozen delicacy to the western world, that his own vivid imagination could not have comprehended the extent to which the modern version would appeal to the popular taste. Marco Polo discovered the forerunner of America's now favorite dessert as a prized dainty of the ancient Chinese, and Dolly Madison really popularized the ice cream idea by serving it at the White House.

Ice cream, playing a vital role in menus throughout the year, has jumped from the luxury class into the everyday class, as it is an indispensable item on the diet. From infancy on up through the years, it is important inasmuch as it supplies proteins, vitamins and minerals. It is easily digested and is an outstanding food for children and adults. It holds its place as a favorite for hospital menus and is recommended for quick lunch addicts, as it must be eaten slowly.

Nutrition authorities say that the importance of calcium in the diet of adults as well as children make milk our chief protective element; it is an essential constituent of the hard tissues of the body, bones and teeth. It serves as a balance wheel in regulating the proper proportion of other minerals in the blood and the need of calcium for building and maintenance of sound teeth justifies increasing the calcium content of diets.

Milk is not only a necessary food, but is vauled as a glamour secret as well. Milk as a beautifier inwardly, is also that outwardly, as it is used in beauty lotions, etc. Movie actresses and actors make milk their "luxury perfect all-time beverage" and get more energy and food value from a well balanced milk diet.

Warm summer days seem to call for cool tempting refreshments and cool milk combined with ice cream gives one renewed energy and is the perfect "pick-me-up snack" following an afternoon out of doors to tide one over until mealtimes. It is the perfect "night cap" as well.

Mr. Roosevelt's attitude has been that no such relaxation is necessary, and certainly no support for relaxation can be expected from the extreme radical labor leader—Mr. Sidney Hillman—whom he has put on the commission. As things stand now, New Deal laws which Mr. Roosevelt does not want touched, stand in the way of the maximum industrial production desired. Everybody knows that, and pretty little stories about how much Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Knudsen love each other do not alter the facts.

THE truth is that the defense program is making extremely slow progress because the obvious things have not been done and because of the insistence upon keeping it a New Deal project. The fact seems to be that Mr. Roosevelt, while calling upon the people for sacrifices, is unwilling to sacrifice any of his own pet ideas in the interests of speed volume and economy. On the contrary, his position is that, whatever is done, these must not be disturbed.

ANY suggestion that they be modified or suspended he regards as inspired by reactionary greed. In brief, the typical New Deal attitude toward business has not changed. It never will change. Businessmen are summoned to Washington and businessmen are asked for co-operation, but the co-operation must be on New Deal terms. A nation in our condition of complete unpreparedness cannot quickly prepare on those terms. Soon or late Congress or the country will have to do something about it. In the meantime, time and money are being wasted.

Dr. Stine Enjoys New Castle Visit

Noted Scientist Says Study Of Chemistry Increases Belief In God

INSPECTS LOCAL INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

DR. CHARLES M. A. STINE

Delving into the mysteries of chemistry, of which man has but yet just scratched the surface, produces a profound respect for the divinity of God, was the statement this morning of Dr. Charles M. A. Stine, vice president and director of the Du Pont Company, who is here today as the guest of the Valley of New Castle Consistory.

Dr. Stine arrived early this morning and was met at the B. and O. station by a delegation of prominent members of the Masonic fraternity, headed by Ill. John S. Wallace, 33; Commander-in-Chief Ill. John E. Elliott, Fred L. Rentz, Dr. W. P. Felch, Ill. Russell C. Melvin, C. H. Hatchell and Charles F. Morrow and was taken for a brief tour of the city and shown the various local industries.

Later, he visited the Grasselli Chemical plant of the Du Pont company on Sampson street, as the guest of C. H. Hatchell, the superintendent, and inspected its facilities. Afterwards, he visited the plant of the Shenango Pottery, which is one of the largest in the country and was much impressed with the manufacturing process.

Dr. Stine, when visited by a representative of The News, proved that his rise to the position he holds with the Du Pont Company is due to his keen interest in anything new in the chemical field.

In a few envelopes, he had hastily gathered some of the products of his great company, which he was as eager to show as a boy with a new toy. He explained a little of the process of producing nylon, the new imitation silk fabric. In its crude stage, nylon is a resin, and resembled more than anything else, a piece of milky looking candy. He stated that it is the only man-made fiber produced in the world today, rayon, and other fibers being produced by changing their chemical formation, but previously they have been in a fiber form themselves.

He showed a new spot-proof fabric, made by treating it with "Zelan" a Du Pont product. Spots on "Zelan" treated cloth can be wiped off, as one would wipe off the enameled top of your kitchen table, without injury to the fabric. He also had with him pieces of flame proof cloth, lucite, and butacite, the latter of which looked like a piece of rubber, and was opaque. He explained that when it was placed between two sheets of glass, that the process polished the material, making it transparent.

Dr. Stine was enjoying his visit here tremendously and looked forward to this evening's opportunity of addressing the Consistory members, their ladies and guests.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

VISITING THE QUINS

I got a letter from a woman in Indianapolis who informs me that she visited the quintuplet nursery two summers ago, saw only four children. "It's all a fraud," she writes rather explosively.

Well, this isn't the first letter I've had, nor the first time a tourist has accused us of only having three or four children in the nursery. Of course we always get a good laugh out of these charges. The reason for such charges is that occasionally, one of the children has the sniffles, or doesn't feel quite so well. When this happens, the child stays in bed. After all, our primary interest is the quins themselves. We like to have them admired by the tourists. But if one of them isn't well, we forget about the disappointment the spectators will feel at not seeing all five.

Ninety-nine people out of a hundred understand this, and are very sympathetic. We have had people come here and stay for days, waiting until one or other of the quins recovered from a cold, or some other ailment.

Let me tell you, though, that these periods of illness on the part of the children are few and far between. Especially is this true since they had their tosils removed a year and a half ago. Since then, it has been a rare event for any of the children to be ill, for colds were about the only ailment they had and colds have dwindled since those diseased tonsils were taken out.

This continued incredulity on the part of a few people about quintuplets is shared by more than just individuals. There is a newspaper over in Rumania that doesn't believe in them either.

Someone sent me a copy of the paper, and a translation. In the story, it is stated quite authoritatively that the Canadian government was behind the "hoax." It claimed that in an effort to attract tourists, five new-born babies had been gathered in one home, and the story sent out that they had been born of one mother at one time.

"It is possible that two of the girls are twins," the report said. "The other three children are simply individual youngsters, chosen for their resemblance."

I wonder how any editor allowed such a fantastic story to get into print. Imagine us being able to find five separate babies, each one born two months prematurely and about the same time. And imagine us having them develop into children so closely resembling each other that at times I have trouble telling them apart even though I've seen them almost every day since they were born.

Hoover To Speak At Republican National Convention

Convention To Gather June 24

Governor James Not Likely To Follow Example Of Governor Earle

FINAL PLANS FOR CONVENTION MADE

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, June 14.—Behind the scenes of the Republican National Convention, which convenes at Philadelphia on June 24, friends of the various candidates are jockeying for a chance to present their nominees to the convention before the balloting begins.

At present, former President Herbert Hoover is the only candidate who has definitely been scheduled to address the convention, according to Samuel F. Pryor, chairman of the convention arrangements committee. Hoover will speak on the night of June 25.

Only Living Ex-President

Pryor took pains to emphasize that Hoover had been invited to speak, not as a candidate, but as the only living ex-president. But reports are already current that adherents of the former president intend to take full advantage of the occasion to attempt to stampede the convention toward Hoover as the 1940 G.O.P. presidential nominee.

For that reason the suggestion has been made that other candidates also be given the opportunity to address the convention.

Pryor said the convention agenda has not been completed yet and it is therefore uncertain how many of the candidates will be permitted to speak.

Final arrangements will be completed on Monday, he stated, when John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, will arrive in Philadelphia.

James Not Likely To Speak As Host

It appeared unlikely that Gov. Arthur H. James would emulate his predecessor, former Gov. George H. Earle, and address the convention as the host. The governor's office said the honors would be done by Philadelphia's mayor, Robert E. Lamberton.

At Republican state committee headquarters it was said that the possibility that Governor James would address the convention still remained open. It was emphasized however, that the governor had every intention of observing the proprieties and would not push himself forward.

Governor James' friends believe that an appearance before the convention would greatly aid his cause since he is a forceful speaker. When former Governor Earle addressed the Democratic convention at Philadelphia in 1936 he received an ovation, amid cries of "Earle for president in 1940." Subsequent events changed the picture, however.

Governor James will continue his addresses on national subjects with an extemporaneous speech this noon at Chicago before the Executives Club. The speech will not be broadcast.

Saturday, however, he will make a formal address to the women of the nation which will be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company over the entire nation. Governor James will speak at Chattanooga, Tenn., before the Republican congressional executive committee at 10:05 P.M. Eastern Standard Time. The topic of the governor's address will be "The hand that rocks the cradle."

Former Resident Dies In Illinois

Word has been received here of the sudden death of H. M. Ernst, Rockford, Ill., a former resident of New Castle who passed away Thursday afternoon at 3:30 following a heart attack.

He leaves his wife, Louise Emery Ernst, and a sister, Mayme Ernst, of Youngstown. Mr. Ernst formerly resided on Neshannock avenue in this city where he was a plumber by occupation.

Mrs. Ernst's brothers John L. Emery of Lincoln avenue and Frank Emery, Bonzo street, left Thursday evening for Rockford.

THANKS RETONGA FOR END OF LONG TROUBLE

Few People Feel Better And Stronger Then She Does Now, States Mrs. Pavlik. Gives Facts To Public.

MRS. MARY PAVLIK

Gratefully praising Retonga for overcoming stubborn complaints that had resisted every other medicine tried, Mrs. Mary Pavlik, prominent resident of 624 Campbell Ave., Valley Heights, New Kensington, today added her strong public endorsement to the hundreds being received by this famous new herbal medicine.

"I suppose my trouble was an acid condition caused by failure to digest my food properly," stated Mrs. Pavlik. "My appetite became so poor I did not want to eat, and especially in the mornings I had such a terrible taste in my mouth it was sickening. At night I would toss about for hours until I was exhausted. Mornings I felt so tired and listless it was all I could do to drag myself out of bed. I tried several medicines, but Retonga is the only one I found that seemed to go to the source of the trouble.

"I now have a fine appetite, and my food tastes better and feels better in my stomach. I sleep as restfully as a child, and that horrible taste is gone. Few people in New Kensington feel better or stronger than I do now, and Retonga deserves all the credit."

Why not give Retonga a chance to help you as it did Mrs. Pavlik? Retonga may be obtained at Eckerd's Drug Store.—Adv.

WEATHER CLOCK
(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—For eight years Mrs. Joseph Kruhman has been able to predict a change of season by looking at the finish of her mahogany clock. Every three months the clock's color would change from light to dark or vice versa. Recently an antique dealer revealed that it was the mercury in the wood that causes the clock to change with light and heat conditions.

Post Office Not Accepting Parcels For Many Countries

Post Office Department Supplies Mahoningtown Office With Cancellation List

Mahoningtown Branch Post Office is not allowed to accept packages for many foreign countries, due to the war condition abroad, it was learned today.

The post office department has supplied the local office with a cancellation list, naming the countries to which parcels may not be shipped.

During the past six months shipments of coffee and clothing to relatives in Europe have been heavy through the ward office, but these have now been stopped.

Letters are still being received, however, for the foreign countries.

City Park Is Popular Place

Residents Of Mahoningtown See Need For Benches At Park In Ward

Residents of the Seventh Ward turn to the Liberty street Park, corner Darlington avenue and North Liberty street, these hot evenings, for relief from the heat of the streets.

The park is a very popular place, and attractive too, being filled with many flower beds and attractive trees.

One complaint regarding the park however has been heard and that was regarding the benches. In past years this park has been supplied with green wooden benches, but for some reason the benches were not supplied to the park this year.

MRS. E. M. JONES ENTERTAINS GROUP

Ladies Aid Society of the Madison Avenue Christian church were entertained at the Sunnyside home of Mrs. E. M. Jones, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. C. J. Bernhart presided over a short business meeting.

Date for fall dinner meeting for the group was set for October 15.

Social hour followed the business period, with Mrs. Jones serving a delicious luncheon. She was aided by Mrs. Frank Rhinehart and Mrs. Carl Houk. Special guests were Delphine and Myrtice Jones.

Meetings of the organization will be discontinued until September 11 at which time Mrs. W. G. Wilkins will entertain the members in her Oakwood avenue home.

TO PLAY WITH TEAM SATURDAY

Five young men from the Seventh Ward will go to Titusville Saturday, to play baseball against the Titusville Junior I. O. O. F. team.

Following are members of the local David Jameson lodge team: Roy Denney, Steve Hutnick, Louis Turk, Guy Lateano and Carl Standish.

W. A. G. CLUB

Members of the W. A. G. club will meet Thursday morning June 20, at 9 o'clock at Cascade Park, for a breakfast. Following committee will be in charge: Mrs. Harry Sherman, Mrs. Sam Thompson, Mrs. Jack Cather and Mrs. Charles Hopper.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

A group of youngsters playing under the East Cherry street bridge Thursday, evidently think they are young Tarzans. The youths had ropes tied under the bridge and they were swinging way out over the water.

In view of the fact that there has been so much rainfall this season farmers in this district expect a dry season about the latter part of the summer.

Many clubs, societies and church classes are making plans to disband for the summer months. Usually outdoor events and picnics are the order of events during June, July, and August.

The ice skating rink at the Progressive club field, South Ashland avenue, is in bad shape at the present time. The rink should be cleaned of all debris for the summer months.

ON HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ianotti, of Amsterdam, N. Y., stopped here to visit friends and relatives while on their honeymoon trip. Mr. Ianotti formerly resided in the Seventh Ward.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Sunday School Convention Ends

Officers For Year Are Installed At Session Thursday Night

STIRRING ADDRESSES FEATURE PROGRAM

Two stirring addresses and impressive installation of officers elected earlier in the day featured last night's closing session of the well-attended 102nd convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association at Epworth Methodist church.

The main speakers were Rev. J. Raymond Schmidt, general superintendent of the National Civic League from Washington, D. C., and Dr. A. Gordon MacLennan, pastor of the Shady Side United Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh.

Ladies of the Epworth choir, directed by Mrs. Anna Moore Pyle, sang before Rev. Schmidt and Dr. MacLennan spoke, while a group of awards were presented following their messages.

Both addresses centered around the convention theme, "Christ, the World's Greatest Need."

Installation Exercises

The installation exercises, which formally returned Robert M. Strickler to the county organization's presidency for another term—with all the 1939 officers as well—were in charge of Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor of First Presbyterian church.

H. L. Marvin, president of the New Castle district of the county association, presided at the afternoon session. County President Strickler presided both at the morning and evening sessions.

One of the principal afternoon speeches was by Miss A. Myfanwy Roberts, Scranton, children's division superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association. Her convention topic was "Christ, the Life of the Child," while later in the special children's division conference she discussed "The Child's Religious Ideas and Our Problem in Trying to Help Them."

The children's group conference was one of six separate afternoon discussion periods.

Memorial Services

Memorial services were conducted by the convention group early in the afternoon session. Later the delegates heard Dr. MacLennan, the Pittsburgh minister, deliver his first inspirational message. Other awards were given out during the afternoon.

A fellowship dinner in the Epworth dining hall came in the evening.

One of the most profitable county conventions and one of the best attended, the Thursday program was perhaps the most inspiring as well. Speakers took timely themes and the addresses were excellent.

Presiding over and speaking at the six afternoon conferences, at which special problems were reviewed, were:

Alcohol, Education, Conference and Instruction Period—Miss Margaret Walker, County Temperance Superintendent, presiding, Speaker, Rev. J. Raymond Schmidt.

Children's Division Conference and Instruction Period—Miss A. Pearl Hockenberry, children's division superintendent of the Lawrence County Sabbath Schoool Association, presiding. "The Child's Religious Ideas and Our Problem in Trying to Help Them"—Miss A. Myfanwy Roberts.

Young People's Conference and Instruction Period—Miss Marjorie Streeter, Young People's superintendent of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, presiding. "Youth Unflinching"—Rev. A. M. Stevenson.

Missions Conference and Instruction Period—Mrs. A. C. Gardner, missions superintendent of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, presiding. "How Best Can the Missionary Spirit Be Instilled in Our Sunday Schools"—Mrs. Howard F. Magill.

Home Department Conference and Instruction Period—Mrs. T. C. Armstrong, home department superintendent of New Castle District, presiding. "Extending the Arm of the Church by Magnifying the Home Department"—Rev. J. G. Bingham.

Leadership Training Conference and Instruction Period—Mrs. R. H. Nesbit, leadership training superintendent, Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, presiding. "How Can Leadership Training Be Encouraged in Our District and Sunday Schools?" Rev. Herman M. Patton.

Novena Closes At St. Lucy's Church

St. Anthony's Novena Closes On Thursday With High Mass At St. Lucy's Church

A solemn high mass on the Feast of St. Anthony, celebrated in St. Lucy's church, Thursday morning, brought to a close, the St. Anthony's novena, which had been in progress since June 1. Services commenced at 9 o'clock.

An interesting sermon on the life and virtues of St. Anthony was preached by The Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito, pastor of the church, to a large crowd, who assembled in church.

Benediction of the blessed sacrament followed, and the services came to a close with the blessing of the relic, which was exposed. The shrine of St. Anthony was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Nazi Mine Drive Aids Beachcombers

By HOWARD BERRY

LONDON.—Wartime beachcombers were today reaping rich harvests as a result of the German mine and submarine campaign around the coasts of Britain.

Regularly patrolling the shores the beachcombers, many of them armed with grappling tackle, are estimated to be earning anything up to $200 a day on their "lucky" days.

The east coast, off which the majority of the shipping disasters have occured, has been christened by the collectors of flotsam and jetsam the "Golden Coast of Britain"

Crates of cycles, dozens of cases of whiskey, thousands of rubber dolls, chests of tea, crates of metal toys, bundles of still usable textiles, refrigerators and even a grand piano, have been found by the beachcombers.

In addition, tinned foods worth many hundreds of dollars, bales of cotton for which between $5 and $7.50 is paid, and large quantities of expensive timber have been washed ashore and salvaged.

Two Years Wood Supply

Many of the beachcombers hav gathered enough wood and coal from the shores to last them through at least two winters, while evacuated children who have joined in searching the sands have found a ready sale for cases of concetrated medical preparations.

At one southeast coast resort people were lining up for permission to take away lengths of timber and many were using motorcars. Some of the bungalows on seafronts have timber stacked in their gardens.

The beachcombers who keep or sell their spoil must be careful, however, for they are breaking the law and are liable to be fined as much as $500.

The British crown has first claim on all flotsam and jetsam, which, says the law, must be surrendered to the Receiver of Wrecks, nearly always an official of the Customs and Excise Department.

For their trouble, however, beachcombers are awarded one-third of the value of their find.

News Briefs From City Hall

Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen, Chief of Detectives Ralph A. Criswell and Sergeant Dent Shields yesterday subscribed to the oath of office given by Mayor Charles B. Mayne. They have embarked upon their new duties.

City police officers can perform police work at Cascade Park. They have been deputized for duty in Shenango township, where the park is located, by Squire John Brinton.

It is likely that the first big crowd of kiddies will pack Cascade Park, Monday. A three cent rate for all attractions will prevail. Arrangements to handle the children are being made.

County Is Well Represented At State Meeting

Delegation At Motor Truck Association Convention At Conneaut Lake

Lawrence County is well represented at the 7th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association which opened Thursday in Conneaut Lake.

The convention chairman is Harry L. Gormley of New Castle, and serving with him in a number of aiding posts is Paul A. Keely. With them are a large group of truck owners, operators and trade members.

On today's program of speakers is Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis, Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood, National Grange Master Louis J. Taber and others.

With the present defense measures being rushed transportation assumes an even more important place in the scheme of government and out of the convention will undoubtedly come some constructive suggestions from the group of truck owners and operators.

On Saturday afternoon the safe driving contest will be held at which time the crown of Chester Loper of Erie will be at stake. This year's winner will compete in November in Los Angeles for the national crown.

Callahan Gets Fine Tribute

State Grand Master Of Orange Lodge Tendered Testimonial Last Night

BANQUET EVENT AT LOCAL CHURCH

Almost 200 members of the western Pennsylvania lodges, Loyal Orange Institution, and Loyal Orange Ladies Institution on Thursday evening, sat down to a banquet tendered in honor of Robert E. Callahan of Ellwood City, state grand master of the Orange lodge.

The banquet was served in the dining room of the First Christian church on the Diamond.

The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers, and a replica of "the little red school house" graced the speakers' table.

Alexander Toastmaster

Mrs. Henriette Davis, chairman, introduced Robert T. Alexander of Pittsburgh as toastmaster of the evening, who officiated in an able manner.

Mrs. Davis led the assembly in the salute to the fag. Assistant City Attorney Frank Moretti represented Mayor Charles B. Mayne, who was unable to attend, and delivered the address of welcome.

Mr. Callahan was asked to rise, and he was greeted with enthusiastic applause. The ladies of the Ellwood City lodge and the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce each presented Mr. Callahan with a beautiful basket of flowers. A lovely corsage each was presented to Mrs. Myrtle Hoffman, state grand mistress, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Callahan.

The invocation was given by Rev. W. E. Minteer, First Presbyterian church, Ellwood City.

Fine Tributes

After the dinner, the following spoke in glowing terms of the honored guest's splendid Christian character, standing for what is best, his tireless efforts on behalf of the organization, and willingness to serve; Rev. W. E. Minteer, Mrs. Myrtle Hoffman, state grand mistress; Mrs. Mae McClintock, past supreme mistress; Robert McCreery, W. D. Poole, John Adams, George Dunseith, Mrs. Julia Buquo, Mugh Shields, H. Floyd Wilson, Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Anna Daley, Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Mary Ray, Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Keowen, Mrs. Minnie Davis, Mr. Fulmer, Mrs. Eliza Huston, Mrs. Viola Miller and Mr. Drake.

The entertainment was held in the Eagles hall, South Jefferson street.

The Kiltie Band of Youngstown was a big feature of the evening. All were delighted with their martial music, and their marching and counter marching.

Miss Betty Jane Bachelor of Beaver Falls, with her acrobatic dancing, was well received.

Silent prayer was given for Mrs. Ross, a grand officer, who is quite ill.

Ellwood City ladies sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow".

Given Present

The honored guest was presented by the chairman with a beautiful floor lamp, as an appreciation of his splendid work for the institution for 30 years.

Mr. Callahan responded, saying it was just what he needed and thanked Mrs. Davis and her committee for arranging and carrying out so splendid an occasion, thanking all for their kindness and for the nice remarks by the speakers in his behalf.

The toastmaster urged everyone to display "Old Glory" on Flag Day and referred to the international situation and its dangers.

Mr. and Mrs. McCreery of Beaver Falls, aged 81, married 59 years, were introduced. They still live in the house they went into housekeeping.

Dismissal was made by all singing "Auld Lang Syne".

A number remained to dance, with music by "The Kilties".

There were guests from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Beaver Falls, Butler, Rochester, Ellwood City and Youngstown.

B'nai B'rith Event Thursday

Leon Tolochko, Pittsburgh Man, Delivers Stirring Address Here

Leo Tolochko, prominent Pittsburgh attorney and past president of district No .3 of B'nai B'rith, delivered a stirring address during Thursday evening's B'nai B'rith dinner in The Leslie.

Irvin Grossman, president of the lodge, was master of ceremonies and spoke briefly of the work of A. Z. A. junior members of B'nai B'rith. A group of these members were also in attendance with their advisor, A. H. Gonick. Marcus Feuchtwanger, a past president of the district, spoke briefly. Rabbi Norman Diamond gave the invocation and benediction.

Mr. Tolochko stressed unity so far as our country and the order are concerned. He outlined the work that the lodges could do as individuals, to promote that bond of unity which would have its effect for our national unity and for our safe-being. He also spoke on the varied program sponsored by B'nai B'right.

The committee in charge of the arrangements: Dr. Henry Sloan, Dr. H. I. Botwin, David Victor and Irvin Grossman.

Complete Plans For Parading In Ellwood Tonight

Fourteen representatives of various civic and fraternal organizations gathered to complete plans for the Elks' Flag Day parade in Ellwood City, Thursday evening in the local Elks club.

The New Castle Elks division will have three bands.

George Moore, business manager of the American Legion Cadet band, will have 70 musicians in line.

The Sons of Italy band will head a large delegation.

Transportation arrangements have been completed. Elks members will leave the Elks club at 6 o'clock.

The various bands will leave the Legion home at 5:45 o'clock. Buses will transport the bands.

Lions' New Leader Will Go To Havana

Assistant Postmaster James G. Leslie, president-elect of the New Castle Lions club, will represent the local club at the annual convention of Lions International in Havana, Cuba, July 23, 24 and 25, it is announced.

Leslie was chosen 1940-41 president when the club conducted its election this week.

Another New Castle man, S. Huston Rhoads, president-elect of the city's Rotary club and Baltimore & Ohio railroad freight agent, has been in Havana this week attending the Rotary International conclave.

Waldorf THE IDEAL GIFT FOR FATHERS DAY

He has pampered and nursed his pipes long enough! He has poked and scratched paths through clogged-up shanks. He has fooled around with messy gadgets and filters. No more of that with Waldorf! The bowl is hard Algerian Briar. But the Aluminum Shank traps irritating oil and tar, imprisons them by a valve, delivers a dry, sweet, air-conditioned smoke that won't bite back. And it opens at both ends and in the middle for airing—you clean it as you would a gun barrel.

Report Center County Slaying Case Is Solved

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 14.—Solution of the sex-mad slaying of Fay Gates, 24, brunette factory worker who was found battered to death on a lonely central Pennsylvania highway early May 5, was announced today by State Motor Police Commissioner Lynn G. Adams.

Police obtained a confession from a man identified as Richard Millinder, 25, Mt. Eagle, and a formal charge of murder has been filed against their prisoner, according to Adams.

The Gates girl was found bludgeoned to death on a lonely road one mile west of her home at Mt. Eagle, six weeks after Miss Rachel Taylor, Pennsylvania State college freshman coed, was found brutally slain under somewhat similar circumstances 12 miles away.

Millinder, a neighbor of Miss Gates, was confined to Rockview penitentiary.

Adams, summoning capitol newspapermen into a hastily-called press conference, saw no connection between the two murders.

An "electric eye" used by the state highway department for counting automobiles, was an important aid in helping police to track down the suspect, he disclosed.

State police investigators said they will continue to press their search for the killer of Miss Taylor whose beaten, mutilated body was found on the morning of March 28 in front of a schoolhouse at Lemont, four miles east of State College.

"We still have to find Rachel Taylor's murderer," Adams reiterated.

Millinder, who was said not to possess a police record, denied he had criminally attacked the Gates girl, according to the police official.

F. F. A. Boys Home From State College

Local Youths Score Points In Various Contests During F. F. A. Week

Lawrence county youths, who were in attendance at the eleventh annual Future Farmers Week at Penn State College, returned home Thursday evening, where they took part in the various contests and activities, along with 1,000 other farm youths of the state.

Donald Fox, of North Beaver, stood eighth in livestock judging and will enter the state-wide finals in September. The three high boys in this contest will go to the American Royal Livestock show at Kansas City to represent the state of Pennsylvania. Fox also ranked high in public speaking.

Bob Kaufman, of New Wilmington, was 9th in corn judging; Paul Taggart and Jack Pink, of Slippery Rock, were 13 and 15 respectively in tree identification; Robert Noll, of Slippery Rock stood 6th in plant disease; Richard Van Dame, of Butler county, was 11th in feed identification; and Fred Glasser, of Princeton, was 16th in horsemanship.

Liberty is a highly prized thing;
Despised is the yoke and thralldom's sting
Symbol of freedom is the flag we fly,
A field of blue from the wide and open sky,
Hung with the glowing shields of starry night,
Striped with Niagara's plunging torrent white,
Streaked with the blood-red-fire of the setting sun.
From all of these is freedom's banner spun.
Naught stays the joy of one returning home
At his first sight of the flag from o'er the foam.
And to the world clouded by battle's pall
The flag promises tyranny will fall.

To Give Flying Tests Here On Next Wednesday

Government flying tests for student pilots at the New Castle Airport will be given, at the port, on Wednesday, June 19. Students who are ready for examinations should be at the field on that day.

Arrangements have been made for the federal inspector to make a call at the airport on this day for the purpose of examining private flyers. Another visit to the port is planned soon to examine the Westminster College flying students.

Afternoon hours were passed in a social way.

Early Adjournment Of Congress Unlikely

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Legislative leaders have abandoned hope that congress can adjourn before late in the summer, it was admitted today.

In place of adjournment, these three possible steps are under consideration:

1. That congress recess for one week on June 22, reconvene after the Republican convention in Philadelphia, and try to adjourn before the Democratic convention July 15.
2. That congress recess for a month, from June 22 to July 22, and reconvene after both conventions.
3. That congress take short recesses, agreeing to do no work, during the Republican convention week.

THREE BICYCLE RIDERS INJURED

Two Accidents Reported To Have Occurred Here Yesterday, Police Claim

Everett Barton, 307 Forest street, a messenger boy on a bicycle, reportedly rode against the car of W. H. Hodgkinson, 518 Wildwood avenue, after the latter had made a stop at Grant street and Highland avenue, at 5:20 p. m. yesterday. He sustained a cut over his left eye and a bruised leg. The boy was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital by Bruce Ewing, who was passing in his auto.

David Clawson, 11, 302 Leasure avenue, and Harry Marshall, 9, 417 East Winter avenue, bicyclists, reportedly rode down Highland avenue hill on their bicycles and struck a truck driven by Edward Toth, 13 East Reynolds street, about noon yesterday.

According to Toth, he was driving south on Highland avenue and turning right into an alley at the Castle garage, when the crash occurred.

Lew Wallace, 11, 1108 Highland avenue, was riding with Marshall but escaped injuries. Clawson and Marshall sustained cuts and bruises to their legs.

Huge Parade Will Feature Flag Day

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14—Thousands of visitors from Sharon to Coraopolis are expected to pour into this city this afternoon and evening to take part in and witness the mammouth Flag Day parade, arranged by the local Elks Lodge at 7 o'clock tonight.

Indications are that this parade will equal any that Ellwood City has ever witnessed. A total of sixteen bands are listed with the New Castle Junior American Legion band and the Beaver Falls high school band among those in line. Most of the organizations will have marching units and color guards and along with local units will boost the total in the line of march to 3,000.

The parade will form on Crescent avenue beginning at Second street and the start of the parade will be signalled by an explosion of a bomb to terminate in the unfurling of an American flag. Two airplanes will fly over the city during the parade bearing banners reading "God Bless America".

The line of march follows: West on Crescent to 9th; north on 9th to Lawrence, on Lawrence to Fifth; north on 5th to Fountain, east on Fountain to 2nd; and south on Second to Crescent; thence west on Crescent to the Lincoln high school auditorium where exercises of the evening will be held.

Colonel W. A. Ganoe, of 99th Division, U. S. Army, of Pittsburgh, will be the speaker at the program with the subject to be "Defense Of Our Flag". During the program the Elks flag ritual will be conducted and a history of the flag will be given by Earl K. Herbert, of Wampum. Attorney R. W. Humphrey will introduce the speaker.

A dance will follow for guests at the club house, in Crescent avenue.

Chief of Police Ernest Hartman asks that all local residents leave their cars at home and walk to the parade as all the street on which the parade will move have been posted.

Teacher Resigns In Ellwood City

Minor Matters Come Before School Board At Meeting Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The resignation of one teacher, Mrs. Beatrice Brunton Andrews, was accepted by members of the Ellwood Board of Education at their regular June meeting last evening. She taught public speaking.

A letter was received from the state department announcing that Wilfred Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gibson, of Wayne avenue, had won the county competitive examination and will be given a $100 scholarship to any Pennsylvania college for four years.

Results in semester achievement tests were made: Three A, Sammy Morrow, Hartman building; Barbara Boone, North Side, and Mary Lee Baisch, Ewing Park. Each child had an average of 5.6; 6A, Joan Meister, Ewing Park, and Russell French, Ewing Park; 8A, Lina Nirelli, Charles Gibson, Floyd Thorpe and Joe Bellissimo. The city average is 12 higher than at mid-year and .1 higher than a year ago.

Of the 758 pupils given the Schick test, 23k had a positive reaction. Parents of pupils with a positive reaction were notified and toxid was administered.

A very favorable tax recently was made for the month of May, with the total collection being $6,639.92 with the greater amount being $1,-124 for 1938 and prior per capita tax; $1,741 for 1939 property; and $3,076 for 1939 per capita. Ninety per cent of the 1939 property and 39 per cent of the 1939 per capita tax has been collected. Increase in collection compared with 1938 duplicate is 4 per cent property; and 17 per cent per capita. The tax collector's bond was renewed.

It was agreed to have Frank Sheldone admitted to the school for deaf at Edgewood, Pa. He is six years old.

The building committee was given authority to have repairs made to the west side of the tower of Lincoln building and Tony Rufus will be employed to repair the sidewalks.

The members agreed to have all school children finger-printed by the F. B. I., and instructed Mr. Bell to make the necessary arrangements. The action followed a request of the American Legion.

R. J. Hawke, shop instructor, will be employed during a part of the summer to sharpen the tools and to do some necessary carpenter work. The supplies contract was awarded to the low bidders. The use of the auditorium was granted to the Elks Lodge for the flag day parade tonight instead of the football field. Use of the field was denied because a part of it is being re-sodded.

John Baier Dies After Long Illness

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—John Baier, aged 62 years, passed away at 12:10 o'clock this morning at his home, 826 Beaver avenue, after a lingering illness.

He had resided here for many years and was well-known. Mr. Baier was a member of the St. Paul's Lutheran church and the Saxon Lodge.

His wife, Mary, survives as do two sons, Michael, of East Liverpool, and John Junior of Ellwood; four daughters, Mrs. Catherine Umling, Wurtemburg Heights; Mrs. Mary Paul, Ellport; Mrs. Sarah Salmen, New Castle, and Miss Anne, at home; and nineteen grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from St. Paul's church. Rev. Ludwig Beisecker will officiate.

ROCK POINT CLUB TO HAVE PICNIC

ELLWOOD CITY June 14-To devote an afternoon to quilting, members of ths Rock Point club gathered on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Gabler of the Wampum road.

During the session the hostess served a cooling lunch.

Plans were made to hold an anniversary picnic dinner next Thursday at the Gabler home for members and their families.

Mrs. C. L. Hazen Mission Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14—An enjoyable all day meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Providence Baptist church took place on Thursday at the home of Mrs. C. L. Hazen of Riverview. Fourteen members and two visitors Mrs. Sedgwick and Mrs. Clyde Brewer participated.

The day was devoted to quilting with the hostess being aided in serving a tempting tureen dinner at noon by Mrs. Raymond Hazen.

Mrs. G. N. Hazen conducted the meeting with plans being made to meet again on Thursday July 11 at the home of Mrs. Charles Krepps, of the New Brighton road.

Happy Hour Class At Meehan Home

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14—Happy Hour class members of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church were hospitably entertained for the June meeting last evening by Mrs. Roy P. Meehan, of Wayne township. Thirty three members and three guests, Mrs. John Cunninghame, Mrs. George Wallace and Mrs. Thomas Rodgers, participated

Opening devotions were led by Mrs. Arthur Wehman and during the business meeting plans were made to hold the annual ham fry at the church on Saturday, July 13, with husbands of members to be special guests. A building fund contest was also arranged.

A happy hour of games and contests followed with the hosess being aided in serving a tempting lunch by Mrs. Fred Houk, Mrs. Arthur Wehman, Mrs. Harry McCandless and Mrs. Harry Gardner.

Pythian Chiefs Mark Birthdays

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—Past Chiefs of the Pythian Sisters Lodge were graciously received last evening for the regular meeting by Mrs. Ruth Price, of Wiley Hill, with twenty-four members in attendance.

Lovely birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. Lillian Patterson and Mrs. Minnie Swick.

Bingo was the popular diversion with the winners being Mrs. Thelma Yoho, Mrs. Ida Wehman and Mrs. Hazel Fetterman.

Associate hostesses were Mrs. Iva Rudge, Mrs. Cora Snare, Mrs. Agnes Shanor, Mrs. Irene Babel and Mrs. Maud Gillespie and they aided Mrs. Price in serving a tempting lunch.

For the next meeting on Thursday, July 11, the group planned for a chicken fry at Ewing Park.

Grange Plans District Party

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—An informal hour of games featured the bi-weekly meeting of the Pleasant Hill grange on Thursday night at the hall on the Portersville road.

A spelling bee was held with Miss Bernice Magee being the winner. For the next meeting on Thursday, June 20, a neighborhood night was planned wtih other granges of the district to be guests.

On Monday evening the local grange will present their play, "Two Days to Marry", at the Big Knob grange.

MRS. REED HALL HAS VARIETY CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—Mrs. Reed Hall was a pleasing hostess to members of the Variety club last evening at her home on Todd avenue.

The lovely awards for top honors in cards played at two tables went to Mrs. Effie Dunkle and Mrs. Howard Young, who also won the traveling prize. Miss Margaretta Hall aided her mother in serving a dainty lunch.

Another meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 25, with Mrs. Kenneth Lauderdale of Crescent avenue.

Bell Memorial Society Meets

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14—Mrs. Jennie Relph opened her home in Line avenue, in an agreeable manner on Thursday to members of the Women's Missionary society of the Bell Memorial Presbyterian church who gathered for the June meeting.

Twelve members and two guests, Mrs. Dora Cover and Mrs. Dora Marshall, shared.

Opening devotions were led by Mrs. Edith Wiley with added mission articles being contributed by Mrs. Harry Lash.

The July meeting will be held on Wednesday, the eleventh at the Wiley home on the Beaver Falls road.

Special Meeting Held By Council

Ordinance For Improvement To New Plan Of Lots Again Returned To Committee

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14—After a discussion that continued for one hour and a half, Council in special session last night referred an ordinance for street and sewer improvement in the Park View and Rolling Hills plant of lots to the street committee for a further recommendation. The principal disagreement seemed to be on a stone or gravel base.

It was said the project will take its turn with others of the boro and in case there is no W. P. A. labor it will revert back to the developer.

Ordinances established the club line on Wampum avenue and the new plan of lots were passed on first reading. A sale of boro property was confimed and other lots will be advertised. The boro manager was authorized to buy a new moving machine. Members will take part in the parade tonight.

The time of the July meeting was changed to Monday July 8 as the regular meeting night occurs on July 4.

Junior Club Ends Season

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—With a delightful picnic last evening at the home of Miss Catherine Lauderbaugh at Marion Farms, members of the Junior Woman's club concluded their season last evening.

The delicious dinner was served at tables prettily arranged on the lawn and decorated with arrangements of pansies.

Miss Lauderbaugh, the new president, introduced the senior club sponsors, Mrs. Howard Gills and Mrs. William Mattocks.

After the dinner they played bridge with the auction award going to Miss Gretta Lemery and the contract prize to Mrs. Judd Liebendorfer. The hostess was aided by her mother in serving a cooling drink.

Meetings will be resumed again in September.

MISS FRANCES HAZEN IS CLASS HOSTESS

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—Miss Frances Hazen pleasantly entertained members of her Sunday school class of the Wurtemburg U. P. church, taught by Miss Frances McElwain, last evening at her home near Wurtemburg.

Twelve members and one guest, Ellen Dyke, of Negley, enjoyed games directed by the hostess, after which the hostess was aided by Geraldine McDeavitt in serving the group tempting refreshments in the form of a wiener roast.

AUCTION BRIDGE IS CLUB PASTIME

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—T. O. B. club members were pleasantly entertained last evening by Mrs. Charles Parker, of Lawrence avenue.

Auction bridge was played at two tables with the attractive top honors going to Mrs. Leonard Maxwell and Mrs. Frank Morrow. Mrs. Joe Latiano aided in serving a refreshing lunch.

For the next meeting on Thursday, June 27, a picnic was planned for Stoughton's Beach, Slippery Rock.

SCHAFFNER CLASS

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—A meeting of the Emma Schaffner class of the Immanuel Reformed church planned for Friday night at the home of Mrs. Elvie Amalong, Woodside avenue, has been been changed to Tuesday night of next week.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Lutheran Society Marks Anniversary

Twenty-Fifth Birthday Celebrated With Lovely Dinner At Church

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—As a fitting climax to the silver anniversary of the Women's Missionary society of the Trinity Lutheran church, a delightful dinner was held last evening in the social rooms of the church with fifty-two guests in attendance, eight of which were charter members.

The long tables were beautifully decorated with a pink and silver color motif with low arrangements of roses and pansies adding beauty to the setting. A program booklet of silver and lace marked each place. The delicious dinner was served by Misses Virginia Guldbransen, Katherine Watterson, Ethel LeFever, Betty Garmon and Josephine Fleischer.

Mrs. H. F. Fleischer graciously presided at the program which follows: Invocation, Mrs. Bessie Guldbransen; welcome address, Mrs. Clarence Hollerman; devotions, Mrs. S. C. Mullins, prayer, Mrs. F. H. Daubenspeck; business session of 1915 conducted by Mrs. P. W. Blochher; a historical sketch of the past twenty-five years written by Mrs. Guldbransen and Mrs. Fleischer and in addition to them taking part were Mrs. G. H. Bauder, Mrs. D. G. Flinner, Mrs. Ludwig Beisecker, Mrs. Mary Lindgren; and Mrs. Margaret Miller, of the Young Women's Circle.

Mrs. C. S. Mullin contributed a lovely solo being accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Horvath after which an address was given by Rev. Ludwig Beisecker and remarks by Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck with the program concluding with a business meeting of 1940 and the missionary benediction.

High-lighting the most enjoyable affair was a "surprise" feature being the presentation of a life membership to Mrs. D. G. Flinner. Voting was by ballot and the winner was not announced until last evening. A lovely gift was also presented to Rev. Beisecker, as a token of esteem and affection for having organized the society during his pastorate at Trinity church. Mrs. H. F. Fleischer was agreeably honored with a vote of thanks for her splendid services in and to the society during its active history.

Charter members of the society were: Mrs. Alex Main, Mrs. P. W. Blocher, Mrs. Bessie Guldbransen, Mrs. Ludwig Beisecker, Mrs. Etnel Rice, Mrs. W. G. Guthrie, Mrs. Rica Moser, Mrs. Mary Lindgren, Mrs. Irene Fleischer, Mrs. Louise Bender, Mrs. May White, Mrs. August Miller, Mrs. D. G. Flinner and Mrs. G. H. Bauder.

Letters of congratulations from five former members, Mrs. L. J. Baker, of Akron, O., Mrs. Elsa Christiansen, of Sharon, Mrs. W. E. Kerr, of Youngstown, and Misses Ellen and Marcia Whittaker, of New Castle, who were unable to attend.

The rest of the evening was devoted to informal visiting among the group.

During the meeting plans were made to send a ham to the Orphan's home, at Zelienople, for their donation day on Thursday, June 27.

For the next regular society meeting a picnic was planned to be held at Ewing Park grove on Thursday, July 11, with arrangements in charge of Mrs. F. E. Wehman, Mrs. Andrew Zekell and Mrs. Carl Shanor.

Providence Class To Have Picnic

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Safreed welcomed members of the Young Peoples class of the Providence Baptist church to their home on the Beaver Falls road last evening for a postponed meeting, with 20 members in attendance.

Miss Anna Czar led the devotions, and during the meeting plans were made to aid the Red Cross war relief fund and to hold a picnic early in July at Ewing Park grove, with arrangements in charge of Mrs. Lawrence Zeigler and Mrs. Howard Syphrit.

An informal hour followed, with a tempting lunch being served by the hostess. Members were invited to meet again on Thursday, July 18, at the Czar home at Riverview.

YPCU Officers Meet At Park

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14—Officers and committee chairmen of the Fellowship Y. P. C. U society gathered last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Boyd, of Ewing Park for a business meeting.

Miss Esther Potter led devotions and Paul Roxbury conducted the business with plans being made to hold a picnic on Monday, July 1. It was decided to send scrap books to Miss Frances Kline, a home missionary in Kentucky. Mrs. Boyd was named temporary counsellor in the absence of Miss Margaret Battersby who is vacationing in California.

The hostess served a tempting lunch before members departed to meet again on the second Tuesday of July.

ELLWOOD W. C. T. U.

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The local W. C. T. U. will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, of Seventh street.

Playgrounds Have Large Attendance

First Week Shows City Playgrounds Are Exceedingly Popular

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The city playgrounds are playing host to the largest attendance of children in its history. West End playground has had an average daily attendance since the opening on Monday of 475, Shelby playground has had an average of 425 and as soon as the pool is opened the first of the week that spot will swell its attendance to 750 to 800 children. Ewing Park boasts of an attendance near the 600 mark which includes children attending some of the picnics. North Side has had an average of some 325 children which is a 100 per cent gain over last year's attendance.

Fullmer field is not in full swing due to the necessity of having an equipment storage shed erected—a shelter pavilion and toilet. This work is expected to be started in the next few days.

North Side playground will also have a shelter house erected to give the children relief from the sun's rays.

Apparatus such as senior swings, baby swings, merry-go-round and slides are expected to be erected by the middle of next week and this will have a direct bearing on an increase in attendance on a great many play spots.

The first city-wide project next week will be checkers for boys. Each playground winner will receive a dollar in cash and the city champion a sun-gold trophy emblematic of the city championship.

All boys may enroll for this project at their local playground with the age limit 16 years of age with a June 1st deadline.

Plan To Attend Regional Event

Good Roads Committee Of Chamber Of Commerce To Be Represented At Youngstown

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The good roads committee of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce will be represented at the Northeastern Ohio, Western Pennsylvania Regional Planning committee meeting to be held in Youngstown on Thursday, June 27.

The 1940 program of that group includes the construction of a new highway from Warrendale on Route 19 to Allegheny county line, northwest to Unionville crossing Route 68 which runs from Rochester to Zelienople then continuing northwest to Barrisville crossing state highway 026 to Route 078 at the mouth of Brush creek, then on Route 01400 to the Ellwood City Country club road at intersection 88 to Ellwood City, from Ellwood City over Bridge street directly north to New Castle.

The local committee is also expected to request full cooperation from all members of the planning committee in the taking over of the Koppel bridge by state authorities.

U. P. Scouters Contest Winners

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The regular meeting of Boy Scout troop No. 9, which is sponsored by the First U. P. church of Ellwood City, proved to be something more than just another scout meeting for two or the troop members.

The prizes for the best and second best essay on the essay contest for scouts of troop No. 9 were presented last night. The first prize was a knap-sack. This was won by Dale Tillia. Second prize, a dollar, was won by Bernard Newton.

The subject for the essay is "Why I am glad I live in America". Ellwood City district committee recently voted to cooperate with the Lawrence County Council B. S. A. in trying to make 100 per cent entrants for the county and troop No. 9 did just that by having 14 essays written by the 14 scouts on the active list of the troop roll.

Judges were W. E. Mitchell and H. M. Bradley.

Slippery Rock Mission Society

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—An interesting all-day meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church was held on Wednesday at the church with a good attendance of members and one guest, Mrs. White.

An appetizing tureen dinner was served at noon by Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson and Mrs. Sarah Jones, who also conducted the quiet hour.

Opening devotions were led by Mrs. Charles Wilson and mission topics were given by Mrs. Margaret Wellhausen, Mrs. J. M. Houk and Mrs. John Bates.

A membership meeting will be held on Wednesday, July 11, in charge of Mrs. Norman Guy, Mrs. Clem Boyer and Mrs. John Weingartner.

Antique Display At Class Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—A most interesting display of antiques featured the June meeting of the Hannah P. McDonald class last evening at the church. The exhibits were in charge of Mrs. Ethel Baird and Mrs. Helen Miesel.

Mrs. Frank Potter led the opening devotional period. A pleasant social hour followed with a tempting lunch being served by Mrs. Eva Kissick and her committee.

Nurses Club To Buy Incubator

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14—When members of the Nurses club of the local hospital gathered last night for the regular meeting, it was agreed to use the proceeds from the recent dance to buy an incubator for the hospital.

The meeting took place at the home of Miss Gladys Geis at Celia, with Misses Josephine and Elizabeth Perry as co-hostesses.

Remaining hours were passed socially with plans being made to meet again on Thursday, July 11, at Ewing Park. A wiener roast featured the refreshment hour.

ORANGE LADIES

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The Orange Ladies Lodge will meet tonight at 6 o'clock in the bank hall instead of the 7:45 owing to the flag day parade.

ORANGE LADIES

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The Orange Ladies will meet this evening at 7:45 in the bank hall for a short meeting.

BOYER REUNION

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The annual Boyer reunion will be held on Saturday, June 15, at Ewing Park grove, this city.

Mrs. Arthur Howell and Mrs. Maude Harper of this city visited Tuesday with relatives in Beaver Falls.

Some slight misunderstanding seems to exist among some of the physicians of the county in the matter of health examinations for marriage licenses, according to Prothonotary John A. Edgar.

After the physicial examination some of the physicians have been certifying the applicants before sending the blood samples to the laboratory for examination. When the blood test is completed a certification is made on it and this shows two or three days after the date of certification of the physician. The physician's certification should not be made until after the results of the blood test have been received, Mr. Edgar says.

Like the last several criminal courts the present one is scheduled to close with the first week. The answer is the same as has applied to the others, a lot of pleas prior to the opening of court. The pleas reduce the criminal court but they also reduce the cost to the taxpayers. District Attorney John G. Lamoree believes it is more efficient and more economical to get a plea and save a trial than to go through the expense of a trial.

With all that vast expanse of lawn to mow it was only a question of time until the commissioners had to buy a power mower. Thursday Cliff James, superintendent of buildings and grounds had a new power mower on the lawns and from the speed with which it pulled him around he shouldn't be troubled with obesity in the summer.

Twelve women on a jury is something that has not been seen before in Lawrence county. By a coincidence every juror picked in the case against Ralph Largo was a woman. The old opening of counsel, "ladies and gentlemen of the jury" was shortened somewhat.

Painters are nearly done in the new jury rooms back of the law library and the floor covering men will follow. A few fixtures will be needed in the toilet rooms and then comes the furniture. Some of the chairs have already been received. Within a short time the rooms should be completed and the county commissioners are considering an "unveiling" day for the improved court house.

PLAN TO MAP OUT NEW CAMP

Girl Scout Gypsy Unit Will Spend Week At New Site In Butler County

Perhaps the most interesting of the Girl Scout permanent camp units will be the Gypsy Unit this year, for they will have a chance to spent a week at the new camp site in Butler county.

Mrs. Fred Unstott of Sharon has been selected to be director of this unit, and she will be aided by Jane Morris, holder of a Red Cross life saving instructor's rating. Miss Morris is leaving today for Camp Ledgewood, near Akron, O., where she will join the Pioneer Unit.

Second week of the camping season, which begins on August 4, will be spent at the new site. The Gypsy Unit girls will inspect the site and map out sites for the various units and a mess hall.

Miss Helen Wilson, school nurse, will be with the girls on their exploration trip.

According to the local scout office, reservations for the Gypsy Unit are coming in fast and any girl that plans to go to camp this year should contact the office as soon as possible to avoid any disappointment.

TO MAKE CHARGE AGAINST PASTERICK

Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen stated he would some time today prefer charges of aggravated assault and battery and assault and battery against Andy Pasterick, 1314 South Jefferson street, who it is alleged stabbed Frank Hobbs, 1314½ Howard Way, in the right arm, late Thursday afternoon. Hobbs required hospital attention.

It was said Pasterick argued with Mrs. Hobbs over back rent. When Hobbs emerged from the house police claim Pasterick stabbed him twice.

Pasterick was arrested by Policemen Welsh and Boyles.

Sons Of Italy Flag Services

American Legion Assist In Dedication Of Flag At Sons Of Italy Thursday Evening

In observance of flag week, impressive services were conducted at the Sons of Italy Lodge, with the dedication of the Flag, Thursday evening, at 6:30 o'clock.

A large crowd witnessed the event with members of the American Legion conducting the services and Carl Ciaella of the Sons of Italy. The songs, "Star Spangled Banner," and "God Bless America" were played.

Attorney Angelo Casaechia as the master of ceremonies gave an interesting talk, and later introduced the following guest speakers: Attorney Clarence Patterson, Mrs. Mary Conti and Samuel Bassano, the latter being the president of the Sons of Italy Lodge.

On Sunday June 16, the local group will have their regular monthly meeting in the club rooms, South Mill street.

Haggai Urges The Building Of God's House

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

"Rebuilding the Temple

"Let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works, not forsaking our own assembling together, as the custom of some is."—Heb. 10:24, 25.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 16 is the book of Haggai, the Golden Text being Heb. 10:24, 25. "Let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works, not forsaking our own assembling together as the custom of some is.")

Our Golden text gives us the thesis for today's lesson, esspecially the part that says, "Let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works." Surely at this time when hate seems rampant in the whole world it would be well for us to "provoke unto love and good works," to offset some of the destruction that is going on.

At the time that Haggai the prophet was urging the people to set about rebuilding the temple of Jerusalem, a remnant of the Jewish people had been permitted to come back to their homeland after exile in foreign lands. The temple was in ruins and the people utterly discouraged and as it usual at such times, their own individual troubles seemed more important to them than the doing of anything for the glory of Jehovah.

Darius was king and it was in the second year of his reign about 520 B. C., when Haggai decided to awaken the people from their indifference and discouragement to build the temple. Jehovah would be pleased he told them for they had neglected Him and this was undoubtedly the cause of much of their troubles.

It was good psychology, quite aside from the religious side of the matter, for Haggai to rouse the people for in working constructively toward a good end they would forget their troubles. Doing some constructive work that is going to help the world, always is the best course to pursue, when one is downhearted because of the hardness of men's hearts and the waywardness of their lives.

Not Time To Rebuild

The people were inclined to think that the time had not yet come to rebuild the ruined temple. You remember in our last lesson, the word had come to Ezekiel in exile that the city of Jerusalem had been destroyed. Haggai roused them with the stirring words:

"Is it time for you, O ye to dwell in your cieled houses and this house lie waste?"

"Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Consider your ways.

"Go up to the mountain, and bring wood and build the house, and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified saith the Lord."

"Ye looked for much and lo, it came to little, and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why saith the Lord of Hosts.

"Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house."

"Therefore, the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit."

Suffering as they were the people were in a mood to listen to what Haggai said and Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel and governor of Judah, and Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest led them to start the rebuilding.

When the temple was partly built, however some who remembered the glory of the old building built by Solomon are said to have wept that the new one was not so grand or rich. But they were comforted by the word of the Lord as brought to them by Haggai who said:

Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord, and be strong. O Joshua of Josedech, the high priest and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord and work, for I am with you, saith the Lord of Hosts."

What did their poor little temple matter? They had all done the best they could for the glory of Jehovah, and He would "fill it with glory." Haggai told them Then he exhorted them to be always clean, separted from sin, and they would prosper.

We may not always find that leading righteous lives brings us material riches. But at least we have an inner peace when we earnestly try to "provoke unto love and good works" and to put away from us hate and intolerance. Of the temple which these returned exiles had built it is said:

"The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the Lord of hosts and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of hosts."

The prophet Haggai's antecedents are not known. He was not one of the great prophets, but rather a conscientious preacher who tried to lead his people in the right way.

May Rainfall Was Above Normal Mark

Temperature For Month Was Half Degree Under The Mean Figure

Rainfall during May was almost an inch over the normal .97 cines to be exact, while the temperature was one-half a degree under the usual figures for May, the figure of U. S. Weather Observer B. F. Johnson reveal.

The mean maximum was 72.4, the mean minimum 45.8 and the mean or average 59 degrees. The highest was 88 degrees on May 14 and other succeeding dates, while the mean minimum was 31 degrees on May 5. The greatest daily range was 14 degrees on July 7.

Total precipitation was 4.54 inches, the normal for the month being 3.57 inches. In 1939, the precipitation was 1.78 inches under the normal, while the temperature was 3.4 degrees over normal.

Days with .01 inches or more of precipitation were 21, days clear 12, partly cloudy 11 and cloudy 8.

Red Cross War Relief Needs Are Still Tremendous

Telegram From Red Cross Representative In France Reveals Conditions

Conditions among war refugees in France are still pitiable, the following cablegram from Wayne Chatfield Taylor, American Red Cross representative in France reveals.

A copy of this cablegram, received by the Lawrence County Chapter follows:

"Impossible to overstate refugee problems, reliable statistics not available for this rapidly moving situation. Among total number of refugees condition of more than a million is desperate. Southern districts already crowded beyond capacity, receiving new hordes each day. Refugees fleeing afoot before complete and systematic destruction in Northern areas all possessions left behind.

Governmental and private organizations making superhuman effort to cope with problems, utilizing total resources but certain essential supplies not available in country. Food situation grave, not yet critical although distribution increasingly difficult and certain shortages painfully apparent. Certain types of supplies needed with utmost urgency, every effort should be made to rush supplies.

"Following list in order of urgency and scarcity in country: blankets, bed sacks; shoes for men, women and children; socks for men and boys; underwear, dresses; stockings for women and girls. All types work clothing for men and women, towels, unbleached muslin, laundry soap.

"Foods most needed are canned milk, chocolate, coca. Put maximum items listed above on McKeesport. Pack in small cases or bales. Since all ablebodied men in army there is serious shortage of labor and equipment for handling heavy cargo."

Babson Makes Plea For Help To Allies From United States

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1940, Publishers Financial Bureau)

WASHINGTON, D C., June 14.—It now must be clear to every American that Hitler stand for WORLD DOMINATION. The United States suddenly finds herself in a desperate position — caught between Allied Canada and unstable Mexico. New methods of warfare bring home to us the startling precariousness of this position. Until the advent of the bombing plane, isolation was a wonderful theory. Today, this concept, like neutrality and international law, is as dead as a door nail. A pack of wild animals are roving over the world. To protect America, we should immediately give the Allies credit and all our available material.

BABSON

To be realistic, the question today is not shall we get into the war—but rather, how shall we get out of it? Do we choose to fight on American soil or choose to fight on foreign soil? The line between defense and participation is becoming thinner and less distinct every day. Back in 1919, we were sure that we had fought for a right cause. The Imperial German army differed from the present Nazi army only in that it was less diabolical, less brutal, less ruthless. Twenty-five years ago we joined the Allies to save the world for democracy. We believed that we were right and I am sure we were.

Too Kind or Too Harsh?

Our great mistake was in underestimating the viciousness of the Prussian mind. Lloyd George and President Wilson counselled against a "March to Berlin". We thought kindness would win the German people to our side. We failed to reckon with human nature, however. At the Peace of Versailles, the kindness of sparing Germany was offset by the desire of certain of our Allies to rob the Germans of their ability to earn a living. Hence, either we made a mistake by not being harsh enough with the Germans in 1918 or by being too hard with them in 1919!

However, our intentions were good. We spent $60,000,000,000 to help the Allies and the cost is still multiplying. Thousands of Americans were buried in Flanders Fields; hundreds of thousands more were permanently disabled. These lives and this money were spent on a cause that was sound and right. Our bitterness, at the stupidity and blundering of our Allies in the Post-War Era, has made us cynical about our sacrifice. Today, we are ready to throw over all we did before—to "write off our investment"—because we made a fatal mistake in judging Europe and Europeans in the Post-War Era.

British Navy Our Navy

The plain truth is that while in 1917 our sacrifice was for humanity, our intervention may now become dire necessity. The bombing plane has changed our entire idea of defense. Until a month ago, it was almost impossible to believe that the British navy could fail to control Europe's sea lanes. As long as this great and friendly navy existed in British hands, our only problem was to keep an eye on the naval-minded Japanese across the Pacific. Now, many here in Washington fear that there will be no great and friendly English navy to police the Atlantic for us, while Japan is only waiting to join Hitler and to gang up against us as soon as possible.

That would be bad enough. It takes five years to launch an A-1 navy. In the meantime, Germany could be picking up vital strategic spots such as the Bahamas, New Guiana, Greenland, Iceland, the Azores and the Leeward Islands. Once these places fall into the hands of the brutal gangsters who control Germany, we may not be given time to build a second navy and a protective air force.

Moreover, my navy friends here at the nation's capital appear to believe that the royal navy, which now patrols the Atlantic for us, will fall into enemy hands and be turned against us before we hardly get started on our widely-advertised defense program! I do not believe that this will ever happen. I still have faith in the character and endurance of the British navy. I do, however, owe it to readers to repeat what I find here. Personally, I am very fearful of Japan.

German Victory World Calamity

So, let us forget our horror of war for a moment and be practical. A German victory means continuous mobilization, terrific defense expenditures, possibility of the bombing of our homes and cities. We know, of course, that the Allies are fighting for their lives—not ours. But let us remember, in so doing they are fighting our battle. They need help—and need it badly. We know where the "right" lies. We do not want to enter the war, but we must sell the Allies food, airplanes and other munitions on credit at once. We must give them courage to continue their fight—and our fight. Time is the essence of this matter. The cost of wasting hours and minutes today may be the destruction of property and lives tomorrow.

From every angle, it will be far easier for us to defend America against Germany on the Seine or the Thames than along the Canal Zone, on the St. Lawrence, at Morro Castle in Cuba, or some other New World battlefront. Washington believes that just as sure as night follows day, we must fight both Germany and Japan somewhere, sometime, if Hitler now breaks the Allied resistance. He is counting on us for slowness, confusion and timidity.

We made the decision to fight Germany and what she stands for in 1917. We became bitter over the results—and quite naturally. That bitterness arose, however, over things which are small comparerd to the real issue. We can now see that issue in all its stark reality—in the smoking ruins of Belgian villages, in refugee camps in France, in sacked monasteries in Poland, in crowded orphanages in England, in death and devastation spreading over the entire world.

Help—And Help Now

After days of deliberation, the picture seems clear to me: Back up the Allies with our credit and huge productive activity—and do it now before England and France give in. Remember, our front is being held today for us in the heart of France—and our "Atlantic navy" is under fierce attack in the English Channel!

Water Companies Are Given Charter

Six Suburban Companies In New Castle Area Are Granted Permits

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 14. — Six water companies have been granted the right to operate in Lawrence county, the Public Utility Commission announced today following approval of their incorporation. They are: Shenango Township Water Co., Neshannock Township Water Co., Taylor Township Water Co., Hickory Township Water Co., Union Township Water Co., and South New Castle Water Co., the latter to operate in South New Castle borough.

The commission stated that after organization the six companies intend to consolidate with the city of New Castle Water Co., which now operates in part of each of the chartered territories of the applicants but does not intend to serve in all parts of the territories.

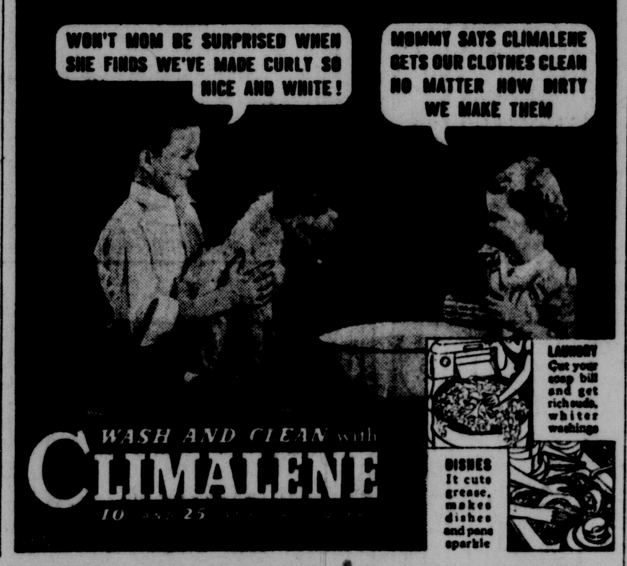

The commission said that its approval of the creation of the six companies was not to be considered as approval of the intended consolidation. Any application for such a merger will have to be filed separately, it stated.

At the same time, two registered certificates were filed with the commission by the water companies. Each utility proposes to issue for cash $500 of common stock, the minimum amount of stock required to be issued under the state law. The applications and six security certificates have to do with the organization of the six so-called "paper" companies before consolidation.

Postpone Opening Of Super-Highway

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 14.—Dedication and opening of the express highway between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg on July 4 were postponed Thursday by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission on account of "unavoidable delays."

Unfavorable weather during May caused construction to fall behind scheduled and only 92 of the highway's 160 miles of four-lane concrete pavement to date have been placed, leaving approximately 61 miles to be paved.

"The highway will be opened as soon after Independence Day as possible," said Commission Chairman Walter A. Jones.

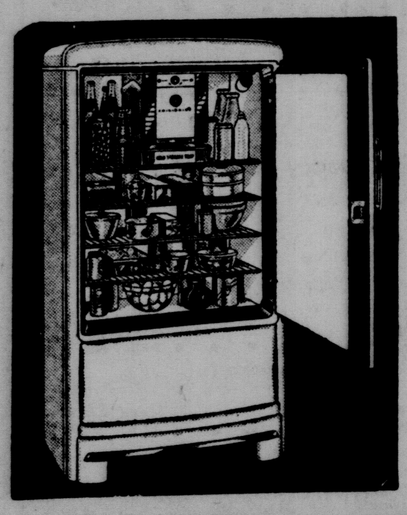

President Roosevelt had been invited to participate in the dedication ceremonies originally planned for July 4. It was thought unlikely by some that the new turnpike would be opened to traffic before Labor Day or early fall.

ELLWOOD CITY NEWS

Elks Gain Second Place In League

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—The Elks gained sole possession of second place in the American Legion Junior League by scoring an 11 to 9 victory over the Legion nine last night at Ewing Park.

Both teams were limited to five safeties but the Legion scoring Elks were aided by ten Legion misplays and three walks.

Couples by Mazzant and Greco were the game's only extra base hits.

Score by innings:

		H.	H.	E.
Elks	400 34—11	15	4
Legion	024 03— 9	5	9

Batteries: Elks—Poholsky, P., and Curtis, P., and Shaffer, C. Legion—Forbush, P., and Maietta, C.

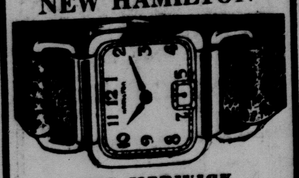

Large Crowd At Park Performance

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—One of the largest crowds of the year attended the activities held at Ewing Park last night. The Hawaiian Lei day exercises which were put on by the Sturm Hawaiian school of music, attracted a crowd of approximately 1,200 people. This exercise was well done and was a unique presentation.

A stellar baseball attraction between the Ellport Tigers and Ellwood A. C. kept an enthusiastic crowd of 900 fans on their toes the entire nine innings of the ball game.

Another softball game and the Legion Junior baseball game had another 500 people watching their activities.

Mrs. Chas. Timblin Is Hostess To Class

ELLWOOD CITY, June 14.—Mrs. Charles Timblin hospitably welcomed members of the Gleaners class of the Wurtemburg Methodist church to her home in Wurtemburg last evening for the June meeting.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Ray Ketterer and during the meeting plans were made to hold a picnic on Thursday, July 11, at Ewing Park grove for members and their families.

At an appropriate hour the hostess was aided in serving the 20 guests an appetizing lunch by her mother, Mrs. Roy Hazen, a special guest.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Cunningham and children and Mrs. Ida Cunningham, of the New Castle road, were to arrive home from a vacation spent in Florida on Thursday.

Warren and Lawrence Wehman, Roy Meehan, Jr., Dale and Ruth Cole and Miriam Wilson, of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church, are spending the week-end at Camp Ar Co Ho, at Evans City, a camp for Presbyterian young people.

Geraldine Joy and Dolores Jean Harper of Beaver Falls are visiting with relatives in this city.

Miss Lillian Haswell of Line avenue, who has been ill in a Pittsburgh hospital, has recovered and is now at home.

Miss Betty Kliendenst, a student nurse at the Passavant hospital in Pittsburgh, is spending a vacation with her family in this city.

Mrs. E. C. Black of Whiting, Ind., who has been a guest for the past three weeks of Mrs. James Goodwill of First avenue, has gone to Meadville to visit with other relatives.

Donald Wilson, a law student at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, is spending the vacation period with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of Woodside avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kirk of Fifth street returned home last evening after spending a week's vacation in Virginia.

Mrs. Keith Hamilton of McKeesport is visiting with friends in this city. She formerly resided here.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sommers of Morris, Minn., are visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Young of Fifth street and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Young of Woodlawn avenue. This is their first visit to this city in 40 years.

Mr. and Mrs. George Feerst of First avenue have returned home after attending the World's Fair in New York.

SAYS MEDICINE HAS DEFEATED PNEUMONIA

(International News Service)

DENVER.—Your chances of succumbing to the deadly germs of pneumonia are becoming less and less every year.

This fact was claimed recently at the Colorado State Medical society meeting here when Dr. John I. Zarit of Denver, presented a scientific paper to the conference pointing out that a double-barreled attack had been made by scientists on the pneumonia germ.

Dr. Zarit said the anti-pneumococcus serums have been cultured and improved immensely over the years so that today they are virtually fool proof.

In addition, there is the recent development of the new drug, sulfapyridine, which has recorded excellent results in the treatment and cure of pneumonia.

"Sulfapyoridine, is a therapeutic agent comparatively inexpensive and more readily available and easily administered and has become widely effective," Dr. Zarit said.

City Sends Marchers To Ellwood Tonight

Delegations representing most of New Castle's fraternal and social organizations will march tonight in Ellwood City's gigantic Flag Day parade, scheduled to start at 7.

Leaders of New Castle Eintracht Singing society, one of the groups entered, said members will leave Eintracht here in cars not later than 6:15 o'clock. The line of formation for the Eintracht paraders will be Crescent avenue. The group will find parking space on Spring avenue.

Troop K's mounted National Guardsmen, led by Commander George F. Mitchell, will appear in the march. Mitchell said the troopers will ride their steeds to Ellwood over the New Castle-Ellwood City highway early this evening.

Vending Machine Gadget Tests Coins By Magnetic Once Over, Bounce, 'Feel'

(International News Service)

CHICAGO.—The trade name is "automatic slug rejector" but actually the device is a Shylock, a carping suspicious gadget for detecting phoney coins in an automatic vending machine.

The gadget was on display at the annual exposition of the Coin Machine Industries, Inc., the manufacturers' trade association, in Chicago.

Checks Thickness

Drop a nickel into a machine for any one of the 110 different kinds of merchandise now being vended by machine—from music or perfume to hard boiled eggs—and nickel first meets a set of mechanical "fingers" which "feel" it, shunting it into the return shute if it isn't up to specification in regard to width or thickness.

If the coin gets past the "fingers" it meets a set of magnets which brood over its metallic content.

If the magnets are perfectly satisfied, they pass the nickel on to a set of scales which weigh it—but it doesn't get a card telling its fortune.

Double Bounce

Then the jitney is bounced on a platform and if the bounce is OK it is bounced again. This time it is a controlled bounce which deposits the nickel in the coin receptacle, tripping the lever enroute which sets the machine in action and perfume is forthwith squirted or the egg is delivered.

Incidentally, the whole process of investigating the customer's credit and the delivery of the merchandise or the ejection of the coin if the customer is a person of low character, takes less than five seconds.

More than 5,000 coin machine manufacturers, distributors and operators attended the four day exposition.

IMPORTANT NEW YORK HOSPITAL JOB GOES BEGGING

(International News Service)

NEW YORK.—There's a $6,500 job in the New York Department of Hospitals going begging.

The pay is fine, Dr. Sigismund S. Goldwater, Commissioner of Hospitals admits. But whoever gets the job as Deputy Commissioner will be guaranteed "at least one heartbreak a day" and "maybe a laugh a week."

Under the new city charter, Dr. Goldwater is permitted two deputies. He has one, Julius Lynch Piland, who supervises construction, engineering and architecture.

But to find the other is the problem.

The amethyst was valued by the ancient Greeks as a charm against the intoxicating effects of alcoholic beverages.

Ella E. Kerber Gets Appointment

Named As Only Woman Member Of Youngstown Safety Commission

ELLA E. KERBER

Miss Kerber, daughter of the late Jhilip J. and Mary Eckert Kerber, has been appointed by Mayor B. Spagnola of Youngstown, O., as the only woman member of the newly council-created safety commission. Nine prominent business men and leaders constitute the body, which will assist council and the traffic department in reducing accidents, cutting the high death rates and recommending legislature on traffic.

Miss Kerber was graduated from New Castle high school and formerly was connected with the New Castle News and the Youngstown Vindicator. At present she is writing a column, "The Ink Well', for the Youngstown Shopping News and is associate editor of the Buckeye Tavern. a state-wide publication in Ohio.

During the early years of her life Miss Kerber lived on Long avenue with her mother and grandmother, the late Mary A. Eckert.

Miss Kerber is a sister of Walter P. Kerber, 303 North Ray street, and William L. Kerber, Hamilton street.

Next fall Miss Kerber will be a candidate for council in the first ward in Youngstown.

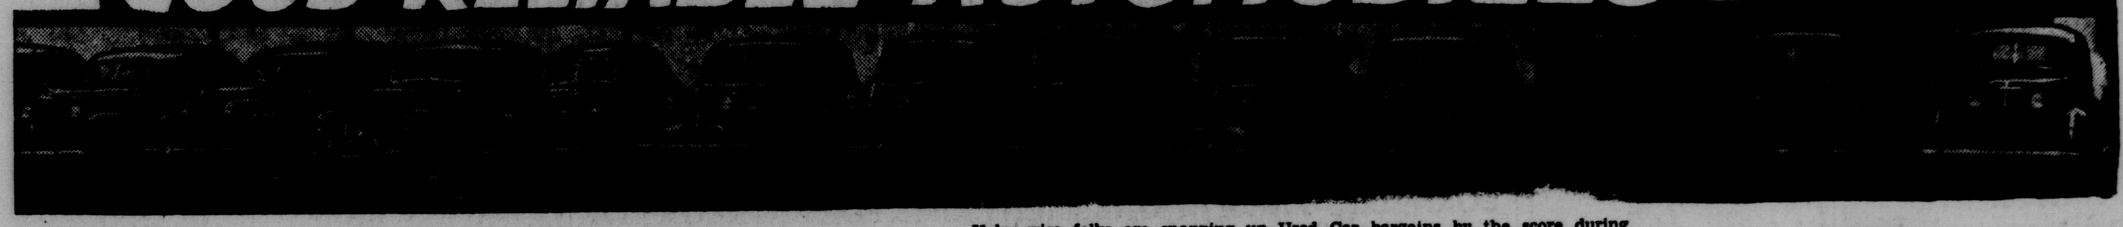

During Flag Week in Youngstown Miss Kerber was chairman, having been appointed by the mayor, and in that capacity raised several thousand dollars to stage a mammoth patriotic flag day mass meeting in the Stambaugh auditorium. Money left over was turned over to the Red Cross.

Foods Would Sour With Acids--Gas Pains Then Found Relief!

Nervous and Irritable from Stomach Distress Was Lot of Mr. Morris—Spent Hundreds of Dollars Seeking Relief—Then Found "Williams Formula"—Tells How Medicine Made Him Glad with Relief of Stomach Distress and Constipation.

"My Stomach distress, gas, bloat and constipation Relieved with Williams Formula", states Mr. Gus Morris of Uhrichsville, Ohio. Read His Sincere Statement given below.

Another prominent user, Mr. Gus Morris, Uhrichsville, Ohio, is now adding his name to a long list of other professional and business men and women who publicly praise and endorse WILLIAMS FORMULA. This is the medicine now being introduced to crowds daily in this city by the Pay Less Drug Store.

Glowing Praise From Users!

On every side druggists report glowing praise for this medicine whose many fine actions help ease out wastes stored up from Constipation, to relieve upset stomach and little appetite from constipation; besides relieving acid stomach pains, furnishing important IRON for red blood cells where extra is needed, and even supplying tonics for the nerves and digestion.

So Many Fine Actions!

Praises of thousands of people all over the country has encouraged the local stores to bring Williams Formula to the attention of all sick people of New Castle and vicinity who find they may need a mild nudge for the bowels, alkalizers for excess stomach acidity, diuretics to help relieve acid kidney pains, while at the same time enjoying the supply of Iron, and Nerve tonics, and the Carminatives which help expel gas and bloat from Constipation.

That these many actions are welcomed by thousands of people, and that local people are beginning to find out that what other users have experienced can be true for them also, is attested by the comments and recommendations made daily to the stores One such letter comes from out of town, from Mr. Gus Morris, of Uhrichsville, Ohio, who says:

For some time I have been bothered with stomach distress, bloating and gas. I suffered considerable nausea. My bowels were constipated, I was nervous and had difficulty sleeping at night. Certain foods I ate would sour on my stomach, causing acidity and gas. I became irritable as a result of my stomach distress. I spent hundreds of dollars for different medicine, but without much real relief. Then I saw Williams Formula advertised and started using it. I am happy to say now that my stomach distress and constipation have been much relieved. I have been sleeping fine, and I feel fine. I am sure glad that I found this medicine, and will be glad to recommend it to others. I certainly do not want to be without Williams Formula to take as I feel the need of it."

How Can One Medicine Do All This?

Because it is made of VITAL HERBAL EXTRACTS AND MINERALS which are skillfully compounded and blended so they act as several good medicines in one. Your own judgment can tell you the value of obtaining these several fine actions at one time. WILLIAMS FORMULA gives benefits that cannot be obtained from a laxative alone, and nearly everyone can take it to advantage at times.

Make Your Test Today!

Try WILLIAMS FORMULA today. It costs so little—only a few cents a day, and it may be worth many dollars to you for the relief it gives. Three economical sizes—for sale by leading Drug Stores. In New Castle call at the Pay Less Drug Store.

Mrs. Nolan Wins Cambridge Springs Handicap Tourney

Local Woman Overcomes Lead Of Youthful Franklin Girl In Final Day's Play

Mrs. Thomas E. Nolan, of this city, Western Pennsylvania woman's golf champion, added new honors to her long string of achievements on the fairways, yesterday, when she turned in a round of 85 for the day's play, which added to the 84 she scored the day before, gave her a card of 169, to beat out Mrs. C. E. Cox, of the Franklin Country club, with whom she had tied the day previously, and the first day's leader, 18-year-old Martha McPherson, of Franklin, at the Riverside Golf club at Cambridge Springs.

Trailing by one stroke, Mrs. Nolan went out yesterday in two over par, her several years of tournament experience under all kinds of conditions standing her in good stead, as a brisk wind was blowing yesterday, which bothered her more youthful opponents. She eased up coming in, however, and took a 45, while Mrs. Cox and Miss McPherson almost overtook her, Miss McPherson registering a 41 and Mrs. Cox a 43.

Miss Clara M. Hartsuff, who was entered in the second division, had a card of 294 for the two days play.

SHOOTS FINE CARD

Larry Gramling manager of the Castle Hills golf course today announced that Sutton Smith had turned in a 35-par for the front nine card yesterday, it being his best score of the year, and the first time that he has ever equalled par.

CHURCH GOLF LEAGUE

The First Methodist team retained first place in the church golf league last night at the beautiful Castle Hills golf course. The Methodists have 28 points to nearest opponent First Christians 25½. Medalist last night was George Sargent with a 38. Other low scores were T. N. Hockman 39, Alex Dutkin 39, Bob Mackie 41, Everett Patton 41, Stan Kibish 41.

Richard "Dick" Hitchcock with a low net of 31 was awarded the Perelman handicap golf ball.

It was announced that those interested in entering the special tourney to begin July 2 with the start of the second half, to post their name and entry fee at Castle Hills at once.

Standing of the league—First Methodists 28, First Chritians 25½, First U. P. 24½, First Presbyterians 24½, Trinity 24, Highland 21, Mahoning 20½, St. Marys 20, Temple Israel 16.

SYLVAN HEIGHTS MATCH

Considerable interest has been shown in the match which will be played at the Sylvan Heights course on Sunday, when the married men and single men will tangle in a special event, which should be extremely close. Quite a few of the benedicts of the course are real golfers, and the youngsters will have to go some to defeat them.

GAME POSTPONED

The match scheduled for this evening between the Fentons and Saegertown G. A., in the Sylvan Heights League, has been postponed until next week, Manager Abe Jackson of the Fentons announced today. A number of his players were unable to make connections for this evening, and the match will be played off next week some time.

SHOTMAKERS HOT

Sylvan Heights shotmakers, who are tuning up for the National Public Links, qualifying rounds to be held at the North Park course in Pittsburgh, soon, have been making some remarkable shots, and are playing real golf.

Andy Segedi, brother of Marty, captain of the Sylvan Heights team scored a brilliant eagle on the 347 yard par 4, No. 7 hole this week. He sank a seven-iron shot from a distance of 150 yards.

Fred Lomardo also scored an eagle on the Par 5, No. 2 hole, which measures 474 yards. Fred sank a mashie shot from the trees which guard the fairway on the left about 125 yards from the green for a 3.

Angeli Cimini toured the first nine at the course Thursday evening in 33, three under par, his irons and putter being extremely hot.

Ted Lach, the 15 year old Sylvan Heights Flash, who is getting ready for the public links tourney, in company with Jimmy Pagley, another likely entry, both had 71's yesterday one under par for this tough course

LADIES' DAY AT FIELD CLUB

Yesterday was Ladies' Day at the New Castle Field Club and the following were winners—low gross 18-holes, Mrs. W. W. Horner 112. Low net 18 holes Mrs. Stewart Folts 93. Low gross 9 holes, Mrs. J. F. Perelman 60. Low net holes Mrs. T. W. Solomon 42.

WEST PITTSBURG TRIPS SLOVAKS

West Pittsburg's "Gas House" gang made it two in a row last night at Clifton Flats Field by downing the Slovak club 10 to 6 behind the splendid pitching of young Attisone who relieved Mrozek in a tight spot and pitched superbly.

James Marky had a slashing triple for the Danny De Genovamen, while Mike Marky, A. DeMonaco, J.Elsesser, and James Marky had doubles. Budai had a double for the losers. The West Pittsburg team had two big innings, the second and fourth when they shoved over all of their runs.

The Slovaks used three pitchers—Chet Otlawski, Leroy Anderson and Janoski, to no avail.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Some of the boys who type the sport news for various newspapers are somewhat aghast that the Manassa Mauler of years ago, none other than the popular Jack Dempsey, intends to fight a wrestler in Atlanta. Their line o' chatter is that Jack is doing something he ought not to do. They are inclined to believe it will rob him of some of his popularity. He has performed as the third man in wrestling exhibitions, his popularity having helped to increase the gate receipts. After having passed through the game and become possibly the most popular heavyweight champion in the history of boxing it certainly would not be pleasing to see him tumbled at the age of 45 by a wrestler wearing gloves. Of course Jack has his own life to live and the consequences will be the fault of his making.

Business concerns in Canada are forwarding to fishermen post cards inviting U. S. citizens to visit their plants in Toronto. "Remember your vacation in Ontario will cost you less this year—U. S. funds being at a substantial premium. You may enter Ontario and return home as freely as before. We hope you will visit us," the post card says.

Frankie Meran, the southpaw who has bowled o'er a lot of pugnacious lads and who, himself was caressed with a kayo last week, will get an opportunity to show he is Grover Carter's master here next month, the Jefferson A. C. having arranged to hold a show in the air-cooled Arena. Frankie retreated to the ropes, they sagged and while his head was bent backward, was struck on the chin, shocked and a fusillade of succeeding blows knocked him out.

Players Demand Release Of Vitt As Indian Manager

Move Unprecedented In Baseball History Occurs In Cleveland

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, June 14.—Manager Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians and Alva Bradley, president of the club, were to meet today to discuss a demand made by veterans players of the club that Vitt be dismissed from his post.

In an act unprecedented in recent baseball history, virtually every veteran player on the Indian squad met with Bradley when the team arrived in Cleveland yesterday after completing a disastrous eastern tour.

The players charged that neither as individuals nor as a team could they play top notch baseball as long as Vitt was manager.

Among charges stated were that Vitt ridiculed the players; undermined the confidence and spirit of individuals by sarastic comments; his storming in the dugout made the players jittery; and his antics made the Indians the laughing stock of the league.

Informed of the action of the Vitt expressed amazement over the charges.

"Nobody can say that I have not given 100 per cent in energy to the team," Vitt said. "I can't imagine what could have impelled them to do this. It looks as if somebody has been stirring up some trouble."

Sports World Ramblings

Sports spray—Frank Tamburini, 910 Oak street, whose hobby calls for the destruction of hawks, owls and other enemies of farm life, boasts of a fat batting average. Frank spent Wednesday afternoon strolling in the vicinity of New Wilmington and Pulaski. He turned in a sub-par score, bagging four hawks and one great horned owl.

So far this year Frank has shot down 19 hawks, six great horned owls and 46 crows. He was telling us that the county is loaded with hawks and owls. He anticipates an exceedingly busy summer. Around Lawrence county's rural district, Tamburini is head man and justifiably so. He pursues his hobby expecting no financial return.

On the basis of dollars and cents, Bobby Feller is baseball's most valuable player. Bob Considine, New York scribbler, reveals that the Cleveland fireballer is insured for $105,000. This year, Feller figures to pocket about $40,000, representing his salary for tossing in the big show and candy and sports equipment indorsements.

"Ducky" Medwick's shift to Brooklyn wasn't too much of a surprise. The great outfielder was fed up with St. Loui. In fact, he even dared officials to trade him. Once the toast of Cardinal land, Medwick was jeered quite frequently. Deep in his heart, it's doubtful if he cared. He should be happy for he rejoins his bosom pal, Lippy Durocher, foreman of the pennant hungry Brooklyn Dodgers.

The trade benefits both clubs. As a Cardinal hand, Medwick wasn't much good for his heart was not in his work. Consequently, St. Louis should do better. It can't do worse. Playing for a team which is hot on the trail of a championship, Medwick should pull out of his spell of indifference and inject a large stick of dynamite into the Dodger attack. Last year, Medwick batted in 117 runs. He has never averaged below .300.

Pennant chatter is shifting to Detroit. The Bengals' latest splurge has placed them within striking distance of first place. Returning home for a 12-game stretch starting today, Detroit figures to put itself in the scramble for the A. L. gonfalon. If any club deserves a banner, Detroit does. As a baseball town, the Motor City is tops.

Odds and ends—Jack Kearns, once pilot of Jack Dempsey, can't see how Louis is going to annihilate a "tough hombre like Godoy." . . . John Kimbrough, the Texas A. & M. grid ace, is quite a track star, tossing a wicked javelin and shot put. . . . Tony Zale's 14th straight kayo over Baby Kid Chocolate proved a good workout for the middleweight contender. He was pitted against a foe who was contented with taking everything Zale had—which is plenty.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Spanking is an outmoded form of punishment for children—and it isn't democratic.

It should be abandoned just as society has given up the rack, the wheel, the Spanish boot and other medieval forms of torture.

This is the opinion of Dr. Frederick P. Woellner, University of California, at Los Angeles education professor who advocates:

"Hit children with an idea instead of a club."

"In Germany, under Hitler spanking may be all right, but in free America, democracy must be taught by example, kindness, and reason," the professor contends. "The so-called 'unspanked' generation of young men and women is one of the finest the world has produced.

"If this is true because the rod has been spared, then spanking is under heavy indictment.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

At the time we are composing this column . . . the sun is shining brightly and the stars and stripes are flowing in the soft breeze. That my friends is a sight worth living to see. We can't think too much about our country these days . . . we should all say a prayer and thank "our maker" that we have a good clean government and that we promise to keep it that way and not to let any undesirable peoples change it.

The city will consider paving North Mercer street hill . . . but to relieve the holes that cause jolts to motorists . . . a temporary filling has been put down. A very good job and we at least appreciate the thoughtfulness.

Cascade Park pool is open . . . and these warm days have found a large crowd in attendance. Two life guards are on duty during the busy part of the day. If the public so want it . . . a swimming meet will be sponsored at the pool. We have some mighty fine swimmers here in New Castle and some mighty fine divers in the vicinity that are willing to show their stuff . . . here's for a pleasant swimming season.

It seems that kittens have been arriving at too great a rate . . . therefore we have received requests that we include these animals with the dog exchange.

Mrs. C. F. Huff, corner English Ave. and Harbor Road . . . 3 kittens and mother cat.

Mrs. Johnson, 515 Sumner Ave. Phone 2249-M . . . A small dog has adopted this home. Anyone wishing this dog may have same by calling. It looks like a hound about 5 months old, male.

There's nothing like the good old summer time . . . with the urge to get out and go. The sun reaches down with it's strong arms and slaps you on the back with such force that a red spot appears. You pick up a basket filled with good things to eat and go out and sit under a tree . . . the tree is nice and the ants that live thereabouts enjoy your food very much. Or maybe you pick up your tennis equipment and start for the nearest court . . . you try to reach for a low one that would be better left unseen and the next day your arms are tied up like a rope that a boy scout uses to pass his knot-tieing test in. Some fun!

Bids—Court House Alterations

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has approved a proposal of the County Commissioners to invite sealed bids for the erection, construction and equipment of certain alterations and additions to the buildings connected with the Court House Plant, and more specifically the erection, construction and equipment of a one-story building to contain a general office for the Sheriff and a private office for the Sheriff. Said building to be erected in the space lying immediately north of the north wall of the jail building, and between the east wall of the Court House and the west wall of the Sheriff's residence, all in accordance with plans and specifications for the same, prepared by H. M. Wirsing, Registered Architect of New Castle, Pennsylvania, and approved by the Grand Jury of Lawrence County and the Court of Quarter Sessions thereof, as appears by the records in the office of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lawrence County, at No. 125 June Session, 1940. Copies of the said plans and specifications may be obtained from the said H. M. Wirsing, by making a deposit with him in the sum of Ten ($10.00) Dollars, to be returned to the bidder after the person who receives the plan makes the bid and returns said plans and specifications in good condition.

This bid shall not include the heating, plumbing, or electrical work, but the contractor to whom this contract is awarded must work in harmony with those doing the heating, plumbing, and electrical work.

Bids must be submitted in a sealed envelope, plainly marked "Bids—Court House Alterations" and will be received by the undersigned at his office on or before 10:00 o'clock A.M., E.S.T., Friday, June 28, 1940, at which time bids will be opened publicly by the County Commissioners at their office. Each bidder will be required to submit with his bid a certified check in the sum of Four Hundred ($400.00) Dollars, payable to the County Treasurer of the County of Lawrence, to be forfeited to the County of Lawrence to the extent that said County suffers loss by reason of the failure of the successful bidder to sign the contract and give the required bonds on or before July 5, 1940.

The County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and/or all bids.

Signed: Frank W. Hill,
County Controller.

Stock Market Stages Runup

Market Opens Lower On Fall Of Paris, But Recovers Quickly And Starts Upward

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, June 14.—The stock market staged a wide runup in the first hour today after opening lower on the fall of Paris.

Losses running to 2 points were quickly erased and gains running to nearly 6 points substituted in a buying rush shortly before 11 o'clock. The ticker fell a mniute behind for a short period.

Steels set the pace. Bethlehem ran up almost 6 points after starting fractionally lower. U. S. Steel jumped 4 points. Gains in other steels ran to 2 points. The advances were reduced by mid-day.

Douglas spurted almost 3 points in aviations after falling 2 points in the early trading. Other aviations strengthened also, reversing an initial decline.

Chrysler and General Motors substituted gains exceeding a point for early fractional losses.

DuPont, which had been down a point, advanced for a rise of over 3 points, and other chemicals were strong.

Gains in coppers ran to more than 2 points in American Smelting. Elsewhere gains were substituted for losses in such groups as rails, electrical equipments, oils, rubbers and mail orders. Utilities lagged.

SHENANGO TOWNSHIP YOUNG WOMAN SLAIN; POLICE HOLD SLAYER

alleged slayer. They were enroute home. They fled when the man assertedly threatened to shoot them.

Body Is Discovered

They went to Troggio's cafe where they told of meeting a man who not only had threatened them but ran after them. One of the men in the cafe telephoned State motor police and within 15 minutes the beauty operator's body, badly mutilated was discovered.

A circle about 50 feet in circumference showed evidence of the struggle the girl had made for her life. Grass, more than a foot tall, was trampled down. However, physicians who performed the autopsy said she had not been criminally assaulted.

According to reports the girl is employed in a beauty parlor and was taken home at 7 p. m. She carried with her a bouquet of flowers. At 9 p. m. she left home again with Mary Semensky and Genevieve Pivora. They wanted her to go to Cascade Park, but she did not go.

Went To Sister's Home

Helen, however, accompanied the two girls to East Washington and Addis streets where they parted. The girl who later was to meet a brutal death continued her walk to her sister's home, at 1408 Jackson avenue. About 11:15 p. m. she departed for home, and, as on former occasions, was accompanied by Dean, reports state.

According to Stolitich and Franciscone they were seated with Leon Troggio and Manuel Liturna, on a swing at Troggio's cafe when they heard a noise, "like a cat," as Stolitich and Franciscone stated. Troggio's is on the Butler road, several hundred yards from the scene of the murder.

This was about 11:45 p. m. the boys stated. The four left the swing. Troggio and Liturna went to bed. Stolitich and Franciscone started homeward through the "short cut" or lonely path. Their homes are along Motor road. When in the dark, lonely field, they were startled to see a man in a stooped position and hear him exclaim:

"Hey, you get out of here before I shoot you!"

The two boys, stood still for a moment, facing the man and when they did not immediately flee, he started after them. They raced for the Troggio cafe. As soon as they entered the place they told of their experience and State Motor police were telephoned.

Didn't Know Of Crime

At that time no one realized that one of the most brutal slayings in the history of Lawrence County had occurred. However, as soon as the officers reached the scene they made their startling discovery. Deputy Sheriff Paul Stark was assigned to keep spectators away from the murder scene.

Coroner T. F. Nugent was notified. He sped to the scene. The beauty parlor operator was found lying on her left side. Her clothing had been pulled up. She was partially nude from her hips to her feet. One shoe was off. Her pocketbook was found some distance from her body and some magazines were found in another spot.

The coroner had her body removed in Burke's ambulance to the Burke funeral home where a postmortem was performed by Dr. H. C. Harper and Dr. John B. Barette. They gave the cause of death as a penetrating wound to the right ventricle of the heart and severance of the right jugular vein and right cartoid artery. Either wound would have caused death, they stated.

Clutched tightly in her hand was some hair. It was placed in a glass receptacle. It will be examined to ascertain if it is Dean's hair.

The trail to Dean started when the State Motor police and other officers learned that he had taken her home.

They went to his Jackson avenue home, and found him.

"Everything Went Blank"

"She was coming at me and I pulled my knife. Then I cut at her two or three times.

"Maybe more. I don't remember. Everything went black.

"She fell down on the ground and then I ran away. I wanted to get home."

Thus Arthur Dean described his murder of his sister-in-law, Helen Nasal, 28, in a field 200 yards from the Nasal home on Motor street, Shenango township, Thursday night near midnight.

In one of the fastest cleanups of a murder case in the history of the county County Detective Paul A. Welsh and State Policemen McCullough and Klare had the confession of Dean slightly more than four hours after the horribly mutilated body of the good looking beauty operator had been found in a welter of blood.

As soon as the officers found that Dean had been the last person seen with Miss Nasal, they went to his home on Jackson avenue. He admitted freely having taken his sister-in-law home but insisted that he had taken her as far as Motor street and the Butler road where he had left her.

"She said for me not to bother, that she could go on up the street herself. (Motor street is a dark country road, and the Nasal home is about 600 yards from the Butler road)

Not satisfied with Dean's story the officers took him to the A. Darrell Burke mortuary on North Jefferson street for the purpose of positive identification. As Dean stood in the morgue, looking with stolid face at the body of his dead relative. County Detective Welsh noticed red stains on his finger nails. He immediately put him in a car and took him to the Jameson Memorial hospital and got Dr. W. Wayne Bissell, managing director of the hospital, out of bed.

"It's Blood"

Dr. Bissell took a sample of the stains on the finger nails and said "it's blood". This still didn't clear the case and Welsh, McCullough and Klare grilled him again. Finally he broke down and said "I did it", the officers say

"Helen was at our home on Jackson avenue until about 11:15," said Dean. "I usually took her home when she came down to see us and we started for her home. We walked out Jackson avenue to Arlington, up Arlington to Washington, then to Adams street, out Adams to the short cut near Troggio's store on the Butler road.

"As we walked up the path she began bothering me, asking me for something. I said I'm not that kind of a man, Helen, and she grabbed me.

"I said, Helen you're going to get hurt if you don't cut it out but she kept coming at me.

"Then I pulled my knife and opened the blade. It wasn't a big blade, just a small one, and as she came towards me again I made a pass at her and my arm went around her. I think I cut her in the back. I cut her a couple of times, maybe more. Everything went black. Then I ran."

Welt On Mouth

Dean was asked to explain the cruel bruise on the girl's mouth which had cut her lips through, upper and lower.

"I never hit her, I'll swear to that," said he.

"Do you remember cutting her in the face or on the front of the body?

"No, I don't remember anything. She came at me and grabbed me." This he illustrated to a News man who was standing near, as he related his story in the long grass of the field, wet with the morning dew.

Dean was born in Masontown, Pa., 34 years ago, but as a small boy his parents moved to West Virginia, living "up in the glen" above Morgantown.

"I knew Helen when she lived in West Virginia," said he. "I've been married 15 years and the only trouble I ever had was a non-support charge against me in Morgantown. I railroaded for a while down there and shortly after Roosevelt was elected president the first time we came to Lawrence county."

In an apparent effort to build up an alibi for himself Dean apparently attempted to besmirch the character of the dead girl. His story gets little credence from the physicians who examined her, as they pronounced her a virgin.

Seemed Composed

When Dean returned to his home apparently he was composed, for his wife knew nothing of his participation in the affair.

Asked where her husband was early this morning, she replied: "The officers have him but then that's just for questioning. He didn't do it, I know; why, he always took Helen home when she came to our house."

"Helen was a good girl," said Mrs. Dean. "She was not a high school graduate but in 1938 she graduated from the Griffith School of Beauty Culture in Pittsburgh on June 30."

She had no boy friends, according to her family. Her brother Joe said: "Helen very seldom went out after she came home at night. She had no boy friends."

Mrs. Dean, her sister, said: "Helen was especially good to my mother. For Mother's Day she bought her a refrigerator. She was always doing something for mother."

Lamoree On Case

District Attorney John G. Lamoree was on the case a few minutes after the alarm was given. With the county detective and the state officers he went to the scene of the crime. A little later Deputy Sheriffs Clyde Badger and Paul A. Stark were on the scene and Stark kept the curious away from the spot while Badger assisted the officers.

Following Dean's confession he was taken back to the scene of the crime to see if the knife could be found.

"When Helen fell to the ground I started to run," said he. "I had the knife in my hand and as I ran down the path I stumbled and threw the knife away."

For an hour the officers and Dean searched the vicinity for the knife but for five acres or more the ground is covered with a rank growth of high grass and weeds.

Dean showed little remorse. He is stolid in countenance. He seemed to think that his explanation was sufficient. His memory of dates and places was good, he recited his story in a cold, matter of fact tone, showed no feeling and searched diligently for the knife he had used to slay his wife's sister.

Dean has a son, Robert, 14. His wife is a pleasant appearing, open countenanced woman of Slavish extraction. The Nasal family lives in a modest home at the top of Motor street about 1,000 yards southeast of the Lehigh Portland Cement plant.

Around the home is a huge garden, which shows the work and care of people who know how to till the soil. The family is well known and respected in Shenango township and the murder has the neighborhood horrified.

TIP TO COUNTERFEITERS

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA. — Counterfeiting money is not a profitable pursuit. Major Allen M. Murphy, of the U. S. Secret Service, said in Philadelphia that the government gets convictions on about 98 per cent of the spurious money cases brought to trial.
